

FINAL CALL FOR MINES MEMORIAL

BY SIMON STONE

PLANS have been announced for more names to be added to the memorial in Hednesford commemorating former workers in the Cannock Chase coalfields.

The memorial in the town centre has the names of more than 3,600 people who were involved in mining.

The first phase was erected in 2006 with phases two and three added in 2012 and 2014.

The memorial has been the focus of considerable attention from those who have had named bricks included and many others who have an interest in the mining industry upon which the local community was built. And the committee of Chase Arts Public Spaces - CHAPS - continues to receive requests for named bricks.

Committee members say they are delighted to be able to announce that a further phase - phase four - will be added to the memorial.

This is to be the final addition of named bricks to the memorial - there will be no opportunity for additions once this phase closes.

They hope that work on the project will start in October, and have announced that completed applications must be received by August 31, after which no further requests will be accepted.

"The mining memorial has the full backing and support of Hednesford Town Council and the Coalfields Regeneration Trust," a CHAPS spokesman said.

"Further bricks will be laid around the grass areas which surround the clock in front of Anglesey Lodge and will form part of the overall memorial which has a huge Davy Lamp as its focus."

Anyone wishing to obtain application forms for named bricks, which will cost £25 each, should contact CHAPS secretary Trish Mellor. Written correspondence can be sent to 52 Hatherton Road, Cannock, WS11 1HQ.

For further details about the project, call 07583 655199. CHAPS can be contacted by email at trishmellor@yahoo.co.uk to request an application form. The form can also be downloaded from the group's website at www.chaseartsforpublicspaces.co.uk

"The committee wish to remind applicants that requests can include names of underground and above-ground workers still living - they are not limited to those persons sadly deceased," the CHAPS spokesman added.

"It is hoped that the timescale will give all interested parties the opportunity to make written applications and thereby ensure a final successful phase of the memorial."

BABY KASPER A SURPRISE STAR OF THE SHOW

Shona and baby Kasper with Shona's daughter Seren, aged 10, and Cally, eight, Kirst McTighe and Jonathan Thompson from the Hippodrome, Shona's mother-in-law Angie Hahmer and cast members Matt Lee (Bert) and Zizi Strallen (Mary Poppins)

A THEATRE goer was given the surprise of a lifetime at a performance of Mary Poppins when she went into labour during the show.

Shona Jorkowski, from Rugeley, had booked to go and see the show at Birmingham Hippodrome last year, not long after she found out she was pregnant.

Despite booking her tickets for March 16, which was close to her due date, Shona decided to still see the show. As it unfolded on stage, Shona's waters broke, springing a surprise on Hippodrome staff who have now unveiled a new seat plaque dedicated to her son. It reads: 'Baby Kasper 16.3.16 Practically Perfect in Every Way.'

Mary Poppins cast members Zizi Strallen (Mary Poppins) and Matt Lee (Bert) joined Shona and family to unveil the plaque, along with front-of-house staff Jonathan Thompson and Kirsty McTighe who were there on the night to help. Recalling the dramatic moment, Shona said: "A few days beforehand, I was getting niggles but nothing to signal I was close to giving birth."

"I remarked to Angie, my mother-in-law, and my daughters that the baby was being very active during the songs. The second act started and I was looking forward to 'Step in Time'. However, just as the scene started I all of a sudden felt a pop and realised my waters had gone. The usher was very helpful, and we were soon joined by front-of-house staff Jonathan and Craig. They stayed with me until my husband arrived, and waved us off."

Birmingham Hippodrome's head of customer service Jonathan Thompson said: "It is such a pleasure to welcome all the family back today and surprise them with the seat plaque dedicated to Kasper."

CRIME

Pub robbers take customer's car

AN investigation is under way after two masked knifemen threatened pub staff and customers before stealing a car.

The robbery happened at the Ivy House, in Stafford Road, Great Wyrley, at 9.20pm on Sunday. The thugs demanded cash and a customer's car keys and then left in the stolen car with a quantity of cash.

Staffordshire Police say no-one was injured. Anyone who saw anything suspicious in the area, or has information, should contact DS Dave Rowlands on 101 quoting incident number 685 of 24 April or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

CAMPAIGN

Snap a selfie and join in celebration

PEOPLE across the county are being urged to take a 'Selfie for Staffordshire'.

The initiative is part of the celebrations ahead of the county's first-ever Staffordshire Day on Sunday.

The Selfie for Staffordshire day encourages people to take a video or photo of themselves explaining how great they think the county is in front of a Staffordshire Day banner.

For more information on Staffordshire Day, what's going on in the county and how to get involved visit www.enjoystaffordshire.com/staffsday

ROADS

Parking ban near to railway station

DOUBLE yellow lines have been introduced on a road near Cannock railway station which passengers have been using to avoid having to pay parking charges.

Restrictions in Gorton Road were implemented by Staffordshire County Council. Parking has been prohibited at all times on a 30-metre stretch of the road from Lichfield Road. The rest of the route restricts parking to between 10am and 4pm.

Drivers have been leaving their vehicles there instead of the pay-and-display car park nearby. The council confirmed that the new regulations were brought in to address safety complaints by local residents.

County's new High Sheriff outlines aims

Colonel David Leigh

THE new High Sheriff of Staffordshire has been sworn in. Colonel David Leigh, who was officially made High Sheriff at Stafford Crown Court on April 14, will remain in the post for a year. He said: "I feel extremely honoured to serve my county as High Sheriff, and to follow in the footsteps of a long and distinguished list of High Sheriffs who have dedicated their time and energies to promoting law and order and protecting Staffordshire. "Having served in the Territorial Army for 28 years, I intend to promote the Reserve Forces and Cadets as well as Staffordshire Clubs for Young People, of which I am chairman. I am very keen to highlight the important work carried out by our volunteers who give up their time to provide a programme of sports, adventure training and other activities for the disadvantaged young people of Staffordshire." As is the custom, outgoing

High Sheriff Johnny Leavesley was also in attendance at the ceremony, together with friends and family. The appointment marks the start of a year-long service to Queen and county. For more information about the role go to highsheriffofstaffordshire.co.uk

Hopefuls will battle it out in council wards

By Peter Madeley

THE candidates for next week's district council elections in Cannock Chase have been revealed.

A total of 13 of the 41 seats on the district council will be up for grabs on Thursday, May 5.

Currently Labour holds power with 22 seats, the Tories have 11, while UKIP holds five. One seat each is held by Lib Dem and independent candidates, while one is currently vacant.

Labour has controlled the district council since gaining an overall majority in the 2012 elections, when four seats were taken from the Liberal Democrats. Of the seats up for grabs next week, nine currently belong to the ruling party.

The Conservatives have two seats on the line, including Etching Hill and The Heath, currently held by Jim Bowater and Justin Johnson, while UKIP's seat in Hawks Green will go before the electorate.

The Cannock West seat is vacant and will be fought out between Paul Allen (UKIP), Patrick Frondigoun (Lab), Clive Smith (Con) and Maire Smith (Green).

Competition

Five cabinet members are up for election. Carl Bennett, portfolio holder for crime and partnerships, will contest Western Springs; Alan Dudson, cabinet member for environment is up for election in Brereton and Ravenhill; culture and sport boss Christine Mitchell goes before voters in Cannock East; and regeneration chief Diane Todd contests Heath Hayes East and Wimblebury.

The council's deputy leader Gordon Alcott is contesting Cannock North, where he faces competition from Robert Branson (UKIP), Phil Jones (Con) and Jodie Winter (Green). UKIP has candidates in all 13 wards including Ann Bernard, sitting councillor in Hawks Green, and Grahame Wiggin, who will contest Hednesford South.

The authority's leader, Councillor George Adamson, is due to contest the Staffordshire Police and Crime Commissioner election on the same day as the council elections. He is aiming to become Labour's first commissioner in the county.

New centre for students on courses in forensics

A NEW initiative will aim to push the boundaries of forensics.

Staffordshire Police and Staffordshire University are launching a new centre for students studying Forensic Science, Forensic Investigation and Digital Forensics. They will get to gain experience of real-life cases, working alongside Staffordshire Police forensic investigators.

Facilities available include a fully equipped crime scene house and specially equipped forensic science and digital forensic laboratories.

Police specialisms in forensics include the recovery and examination of fingerprints, DNA, shoe marks and rapidly evolving digital subjects including data recovery from computers and mobile phones.

John Beckwith, head of forensics at Staffordshire Police, said: "This is a tremendously exciting opportunity to improve the way we operate, innovate, develop competence and improve our services to the community."

"The development of this centre of excellence will ensure Staffordshire remains at the forefront of forensic techniques, ensuring a responsive and dynamic forensic service which is accredited and cost effective."

Professor Andrew Jackson, Award Group Leader for Forensic and Crime Science at Staffordshire University, said: "Staffordshire University and Staffordshire Police are working together to equip the forensic professionals of the future with the technology and skills needed in the 21st Century."

Rail delays after lorry hits bridge

A LORRY struck a railway bridge in Rugeley, leading to delays for train services in the area.

The incident happened at 1.50pm on Monday when the vehicle's container scraped the underside of the bridge in Colton Road. The driver immediately reversed back out but as a precaution Network Rail reduced the line speed to 20mph until 5pm. An inspector was called out to examine the bridge before the line could be returned to full speed.

A Network Rail spokesman said: "There was no substantial damage but we reduced the speed to 20mph from 100mph or so while we were waiting for an inspector to examine the bridge, which is what we have to do with all old bridges like this, to make sure everything was OK."

Alert over delays on route of Ironman

THE official route of Ironman 70.3 in Staffordshire has been announced. The competition on Sunday, June 12 will involve some diversions and road closures for the safety of athletes and members of the public.

Two sections of the race – the bike and running courses – will take place on the roads. To help motorists plan their route, event organisers Ironman UK have released a map showing locations and times of all road closures.

Those travelling through the county are being advised to check and plan their journeys to avoid delays. Essential access for carers can be facilitated by emailing staffordshire70.3@ironmanroadaccess.com.

Once again, the event will see competitors complete a 1.2-mile swim, 56-mile bike ride and a 13.1-mile half marathon, starting at Chasewater, passing through Cannock Chase before ending at Shugborough Estate.

Last year chef Gordon Ramsay and his wife Tana, and world champion Javier Gomez, joined more than 2,000 people taking part in the competition in Staffordshire.

County council cabinet member Mark Winnington said: "We know from last year that Ironman 70.3 will be well supported, but there will also be some minor disruption to travel in some areas, especially as there are other big events taking place on the same day. We'd advise people to check out the maps at www.staffordshire.gov.uk/ironman or at www.ironman.com and plan their journeys to avoid any potential delays."

No further action on former leader

A FORMER Stafford Borough Council leader accused of not declaring business interests will not be investigated, the authority has confirmed.

Mike Heenan faced allegations he failed to disclose he was company secretary for Ise Estates Ltd, Ise Trading Ltd and Greatrex Ltd, in supposed breach of council rules.

The Crown Prosecution Service confirmed last year no criminal charges would be brought against the ex-leader but now the council's own standards committee has declared there was no breach of the authority's code of conduct and no further action would be taken.

Mr Heenan issued a public apology for not disclosing interests and stepped down in January 2015.

Cafe venue for book meetings

BOOK lovers are invited to join fellow readers for get-togethers at Mim's cafe, in North Street, Bridgton.

Book club meetings are held monthly, with the next one on Tuesday. Sessions run 10.30am-12.30pm.

County firms bag royal enterprise award

Lord Bamford – 'thrilled'

THREE companies based in Staffordshire are among the winners of the Queen's Awards for Enterprise marking the monarch's 90th birthday.

Iconic yellow-digger maker JCB is a double winner. The firm's Compact Products arm, at Cheadle, has won an International Trade award for the exports of its mini-diggers, while Power Systems, which makes JCB's engines in Derby, has won awards for both innovation and international trade.

It brings JCB's total haul of Queen's Awards over the years to 30 – a UK record. Another county winner is ATP ATRS, based on the Cannock Wood Industrial Estate, which has picked up an innovation award for a new test rig used for vehicle transmissions. The company, which employs 113 people, re-manufactures and tests transmissions for automotive original equipment manufacturers (OEMs).

The third winner is Stone-based Global Heat Transfer Ltd, which receives an Innovation Award for its formalisation of specialist thermal fluid knowledge and engineering into a streamlined service.

JCB chairman Lord Bamford said:

"Product innovation is what drives JCB's success, so we are particularly thrilled that the JCB engine has won a Queen's Award for Innovation. For JCB Compact Products to win a Queen's Award for increasing exports is a tremendous achievement."

● JCB agreed to donate one of its best machines – the backhoe digger – to help the rescue and clear-up operations in Ecuador following a devastating earthquake. The country was hit by a 7.8 magnitude earthquake on April 16 killing at least 570 people and injuring more than 7,000.

Bar licence reviewed over violent incidents

A CANNOCK bar has been forced to make changes after police raised concerns over security following a series of violent incidents.

Staffordshire Police requested a licence review at Bar Sport, in High Green, after being called out to 15 incidents since January 2015, eight of which were violent.

In one incident at the club's Premier Suite, which has welcomed big names including Floyd Mayweather Jnr and Chris Eubank in recent months, a man was glassed in the neck.

He required two blood transfusions and has been left with permanent scarring. On December 25 last year police were called after reports of a man being glassed at the bar.

When they arrived, officers found he had suffered a substantial injury to his face, while a woman had a severed tendon in her finger.

On the same evening, a man was hit in the head just outside the venue, leaving him unconscious on the floor.

On two occasions, police asked to access CCTV footage, only to be told that it was not available, which constitutes a breach of licence.

Change

Police have now asked for all future events held at the Premier Suite to be individually risk assessed, and that all drinks served across the whole venue after 10pm are given out only in plastic containers.

They have also requested a change of designated premises supervisor at the bar.

All three have been implemented, and a hearing was taking place yesterday to ensure protocol is being followed.

Bar Sport owner Scott Murray said: "We work continuously with the police and the licensing authority to try and improve the safety of our venue in whatever way we can."

"We are still the busiest and safest venue in Cannock and these changes will only improve that reputation. We have thousands of people come through our doors every week, and percentage-wise these incidents are minimal."

"There will be no change to the variety of entertainment, events and evenings we host, but we have worked with the police to reach a conclusion that is best for everyone."

A statement attached to a report on the venue reads: "Staffordshire Police have made an application to the licensing authority for a review of the Bar Sport premises licence."

Death-defying high-wire antics are all part of the entertainment at Mr Fips Wonder Circus, which comes to Cannock's Longford Park next week

Roll up for this big top Wonder

MR Fips Wonder Circus will be at Cannock's Longford Park from May 5 to 8.

This year's show is 'guaranteed to be a blast' featuring the slapstick humour of clowns Mr Fips, Charlie and their crazy crew performing hilarious antics, even firing the only human cannonball performing in any circus within the UK across the circus arena – Captain Flying Bear.

Also featuring is hula hoop manipulation by Jana Roberts from Spain, and from Hungary foot juggling by Miss Zsofia.

Direct from Germany comes the death-defying high-wire duo Camardi performing sensational feats never before seen in this country.

There will also be animated cartoon characters, mischievous Shetland ponies, aerial trapeze, juggling, fire eating, acrobats and much more, all under the guidance of ringmistress Lizzie la Belle.

"Now in its fifth year the Wonder Circus has quickly built up a reputation with audiences, guaranteeing a true circus experience," a spokesman said.

AND now, positively the last in our thread of things misunderstood in childhood. A former teacher tells me of children reciting the Lord's Prayer and fervently asking not to be led into Thames Station. Thanks for all your contributions.

LIKE an errant spouse promising to improve, the European Commission president Jean-Claude Juncker admits the EU has lost "parts of its attractiveness" to ordinary citizens and interfered too much in their private lives. Like so many errant spouses, he then spoils it by making a threat, calling Brexit "pie in the sky." Either way, it's too late, pal. Your pie's in the oven and we're packing our bags.

ALTHOUGH she was only 62, many of Victoria Wood's best characters were inspired by those strong, self-sacrificing, tragicomic and endlessly resourceful 1940s women who coped with wartime separation and bereavement by carrying on as normal, whistling as they worked and never letting the tears show. In our race-memory there is a time when England was populated almost entirely by Victoria Woods, making do and mending, and was better for it.

IF a shop in your high street put up a sign saying "No Muslims" or "No Jews," you would probably be horrified. You would expect the police to act. Yet it was claimed on Radio 4's Sunday programme that some Muslim shops are openly displaying signs telling members of the Ahmadi community that they are not welcome as customers. Does anybody care about this blatant breach of our race laws? Over to you, chief constable...

A FRIEND expected a real tug-of-war as he set about replacing a double-glazed window. Then he discovered that the frame of the existing window, fitted 14 years ago by a professional, was not fixed with a single screw. The entire window was held in place purely by mastic. A quick tug and it was out. This sort of experience is why some of us think of our craft not as DIY but DIP: Do-It-Prop-erly.

ANGELA Merkel says migrants planning to stay in Germany should be obliged to learn German. Haven't they suffered enough? A reader once memorably defined German as "an interesting language but too many fahrts to be taken seriously."

JEREMY Corbyn is on fine form attacking the Tory plan to impose academy status on all schools. Why present him with such a target in the first place? Like the poll tax and bedroom tax, the academy plan is a gift to the Opposition. It unites Labour, divides the Tories and mobilises neighbourhoods against dictats from Whitehall. And if it's such a good idea,

'Lost forever' warning on pubs closing down

By Carl Jackson

TIME has been called on 10 pubs in Cannock Chase in less than five years – and three more are at risk.

The district council has approved plans to bulldoze or convert pubs at a rate of one every six months since 2012.

Popular places to be shut down in recent years include the Tackeroo, as well as The Globe, the remains of which are an eyesore between Cannock and Hednesford.

And the long-term futures of two more pubs – the Ascot Tavern and the Pied Piper – are in limbo, both having fought off bids to be replaced by supermarkets. Last month, plans were submitted to bulldoze the Hope and Anchor in Brereton to make way for five homes.

The Cannock Chase branch of the Campaign for Real Ale has said that pubs are buckling under the pressure of high costs but say that once they are gone they are lost forever.

Focus

Phil Raybould, social secretary at the branch, said: "Pubs are closing very regularly now. The main problem is the pressure of costs. They are the focus of communities and where people go to meet up. But when they are gone they are gone."

In 2012, the Pig & Bell in Rugeley was changed into a takeaway in 2012 and is now Rugeley Spice, and the Bridgtown Tavern also became a restaurant and is now Spices.

In 2013 last orders were called at the Talbot Inn in Brereton as plans for a nursery were approved. A few months later The Globe in Rugeley was converted into an estate agents and the same year the Fern & Fal-low in Cannock shut its doors.

Rugeley lost another pub in 2013 when plans to turn the Prince of Wales into a house were approved. Hednesford's The Globe was the next to make way with plans for a care home approved in 2014.

The town's iconic Tackeroo, and Cannock's The Golden Age and Lamb & Flag have all made way for housing.

Assets of Community Value (ACV) with Cannock Chase Council.

Registration protects important local buildings by forcing owners to inform the council if they wish to sell and prompting a six-month moratorium period for community groups to find the cash for a bid.

Chris Southall, branch contact at Cannock Chase Camra, said ACV's gave pubs a 'real' fighting chance of being saved. He said: "Every pub that is closed is a bad thing. What Camra are really trying to push now locally is ACV."

"It protects the pub because they cannot be sold or have the used changed without permission. It does gives community a realistic chance of saving their pubs. It seems to be more successful in rural areas."

A new micro-pub has been planned as part of a multi-million redevelopment of the former Dunelm shop and Riley's snooker club in Cannock town centre, and Mr Southall believes they represent the future of pubs.

He said: "Micro-pubs are definitely on the up. Generally they don't have music or games machines, and people can actually talk to each other."

"They are a bit of a throwback to what a pub used to be."

Performers get ready for Mysteries

A HEDNESFORD drama group will be among the performers in a special event this bank holiday weekend.

Tower Players will present Joseph's Doubt, one of 24 plays in the Lichfield Mysteries event. It is the third time Tower Players, fast approaching its 10th anniversary, has performed in the Mysteries.

Also taking part is a Cannock amateur dramatic society for people with learning disabilities. Seasons Theatre Company will be performing The Last Supper.

The Lichfield Mysteries plays will be performed by community groups in the city's Market Square and Wade Street Church on Sunday and Monday.

Around 600 people will be taking part in the free event, which is produced specifically for all the family to enjoy. Lichfield Mysteries Community Arts (LMCA) has gathered together groups from all over the region to perform the 2016 Mystery Plays.

Additional sessions staged by LMCA at the Lichfield Garrick include a photography exhibition by Rugeley Phoenix Photography Group, art by Sylvia Royal's Art Groups, poetry from The Lichfield Poets and Poetry for the People, performances from Shepherd's Crook Puppet Theatre and a lunchtime sing-along led by the Lichfield Lighthouse Company.

Parking on Lichfield District Council car parks costs £1 all day on Sunday and is free on Monday.

'Fantastic' reduction in jobless welcomed

A 75 PER CENT reduction in people out of work in Cannock Chase since 2010 has been hailed as 'fantastic' news by the district's MP Amanda Milling.

The latest figures revealed that the number of claimants for Jobseeker's Allowance or Universal Credit in the constituency had fallen by 15 to 740 for the period February to December.

That represented a 2,165 reduction compared with 2010.

Ms Milling said: "This is fantastic news for the area and represents the growing recovery in the constituency."

"We will still work to reduce the unemployment number further and I am championing apprentices, business growth and new business here in Cannock Chase to help it drop even further. Both I and the district council also have jobs fairs coming up in the next few months."

Across Staffordshire the total was up by five to 5,010 (0.9 per cent).

Both Stafford (610, 0.7 per cent) and Lichfield (400, 0.6 per cent) were up by five, but South Staffordshire (710, one per cent) bucked the trend with a fall of 15.

The number of people unemployed in the West Midlands was down again for December to February, by 6,000 to 152,000 – an unemployment rate of 5.5 per cent compared with the national rate of 5.1 per cent, which is the lowest since 2005.

Nationally the jobless total jumped by 21,000 between December and February to 1.7 million – the first rise since August.

Teenager held in Talk Talk probe

A TEENAGER has been arrested in relation to alleged data theft from TalkTalk last year.

The 19-year-old handed himself in at a police station in Staffordshire on Wednesday last week, when he was arrested on suspicion of computer misuse offences.

He has been bailed until a date in late May, a Scotland Yard spokesman said. A warrant was executed at an address in the area in connection with the investigation.

This is the sixth arrest and the second in Staffordshire relating to the TalkTalk incident last October.

More than 150,000 customers were affected in the data breach, which saw what police described as a 'significant and sustained cyber-attack' on the internet provider's website.

Bard is the subject of talk to society

SHAKESPEARE Uncovered is the title of a talk by Peter Cadman to Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society today.

It will follow the group's AGM, from 7pm, at the Salem, in High Street, Cheslyn Hay. Admission is free.

Two more schools in speeding campaign

TWO schools in Cannock have joined the 20 is Plenty campaign for the summer term.

St Joseph's RC Primary, Hill Top, and Hazel Slade Primary, Cannock Wood Street, are playing their part in reminding drivers to reduce their speed to a maximum of 20mph outside schools. The 20 is Plenty scheme is run by Staffordshire County Council, and each term about 16 schools in Staffordshire take part.

The speed limit is in operation when pupils arrive at school in the morning and leave in the afternoon.

Speed Indication Devices (SIDs), which display the speed of a vehicle as it passes by, are used to encourage drivers to slow down.

Councillor Mark Deaville, cabinet support member for highways and transport, said: "Staffordshire roads remain amongst the safest in the country which is something we are proud of and have worked hard to achieve. Our 20 is Plenty initiative is one of many campaigns we run that help to keep our roads safe.

"The campaign aims to remind drivers not to put pupils' lives at risk by driving above 20 miles an hour when near schools.

"The scheme is also encouraging more parents and children to walk and cycle to school which in turn will improve health and wellbeing, save parents money on petrol, and helps to reduce traffic around schools." The scheme was launched in 2010 and has now been rolled out to more than 200 schools throughout the county.

Meeting raises fracking issues

A DISCUSSION event was held by groups trying to stop fracking in Cannock and Staffordshire.

The Save Our Countryside group invited members of the public to visit Keys Park in Hedgesford to learn more about the effects of fracking.

The event featured speeches from scientists, community activists and local politicians.

Paul Woodhead, co-ordinator of Cannock Chase Green Party, said: "Community engagement and knowledge is essential to build a greater understanding of how we can protect that which we value. Events like this link an understanding of the diverse nature of our eco-system and the need for community activism to protect the countryside for future generations."

Call to educate parents about sugar

Dr Mark Emms - 'figures truly alarming'

A PENKRIDGE dentist is calling for more education to help parents to understand how much sugar their children are having as part of their day-to-day diet.

Dr Mark Emms, who is the owner of The Priors Dental Practice, made the call after figures revealed that the number of tooth removal procedures among children over the last five years has grown by more than a quarter.

Latest figures show that there were more than 40,970 removal procedures carried out on under-18s in 2014-15 compared with 32,457 in 2010-11. Dr Emms said: "The figures from the Local Government Association are truly alarming.

Hidden

"In my opinion, many tooth removals can be avoided simply by giving parents and families more information about sugar intake and the importance of regular checks on children's teeth.

"The recently introduced 'sugar tax' on drinks is a step in the right direction, but along with this we need to do more to educate parents and families about other hidden sugars in so called 'healthy snacks', breakfast cereals or foods such as baked beans or tinned tomato soup, for instance," he added.

"There is a lot of misinformation out there.

"Encouraging children to snack on fruit is considered the healthy option, when in fact even natural sugars in fruit should be limited to meal times to cut down on the acid erosion it can cause."

£4m revamp approved for services on M6 Toll

A £4 MILLION revamp of the M6 Toll services that will create 160 jobs has been given the go-ahead.

The plans were given the nod by Cannock Chase Council after being submitted by Roadchef, the owners of the site.

Roadchef says the major investment is to compete with the likes of Moto and Welcome Break services as well as meet government requirements to encourage drivers to take regular breaks. According to the conditions of the plans' approval, builders must now start the work within the next three years.

As part of the revamp, a new McDonald's and Spar will be opening at the site. The fast food restaurant will be in line with McDonald's outlets where customers can use digital technology to order and pay for meals.

Spar will be the first convenience shop at the Norton Canes services, which at the moment has WHSmith, a Fresh Food Cafe and a Costa.

Roadchef believes the investment will result in 15 per cent more customers.

Site director Peter Watson said: "We know from opening Spar stores and McDonald's restaurants at other Roadchef sites that they will bring more motorists into the service area.

Opportunity

"We pride ourselves in working with the local community and are delighted to be bringing up to 160 new jobs to the area.

"For anyone looking to begin a career in catering, serving thousands of customers every day here at Norton Canes presents a great opportunity."

Roadchef CEO Simon Turl said: "This expansion is part of our strategic plan to provide the UK's motorists with the best facilities possible when they stop during their journeys. Norton Canes is the only motorway service area on the M6 Toll, and the significant traffic growth the road has seen in recent years has given us the confidence to make such a large investment.

"We believe the introduction of a Spar and McDonald's will bring excellent benefits to the travelling public stopping at the site. We hope to have a decision on the planning approval very soon, so that we can begin work on this exciting development."

The station, located between junctions T6 and T7, opened in March 2004.

Plans for a similar redevelopment were approved in 2010 but never implemented.

Residents get the hump over ramp

The 'pointless' speed bump in Thompson Road, Rugeley, which is falling apart

A SPEED bump branded the 'world's most pointless' has started to break up - attracting more criticism of highways chiefs.

The hump, in Thompson Road, Rugeley, is yards away from Armitage Road, raising eyebrows as to why it is actually needed in the first place. But now chunks have broken away and have been left strewn on the pavement.

Resident Paul Smith was one of the first to raise the problem by posting pictures on Facebook. He said: "The world's most pointless speed ramp has broken up at the bottom of Thompson Road. Please can it now be removed. Why is a speed ramp required this close to a T-junction it's not like you are not about to stop anyway?"

Mr Smith said he had reported the damage to Staffordshire County Council, which is responsible for highways maintenance.

The message received dozens of

'likes' and prompted other people to post their suggestions of other questionable speed restrictions.

A mini-roundabout in Lea Hall Lane was branded 'completely useless', while the traffic-calming measure in Lodge Road was labelled 'Utter rubbish'.

No-one at the council was available to comment but its website, where residents are urged to report damaged roads, said there were two 'active calls' at the spot.

Another barn is damaged by fire

FIRE crews were called to tackle a barn on fire in Brocton.

Appliances from Stafford, Cannock and Penkridge arrived at the scene off the A34 at 11.57am on Tuesday last week. The blaze caused extensive damage to the building, destroying parts of the roof and wall.

Police closed off the road leading to the farm while the crews tackled the flames. The blaze follows a huge fire tackled by crews from seven fire stations two weeks ago. Almost 30 calves perished in the fierce barn blaze at Mitton Lodge Farm, near Penkridge.

Dog owners set to go on charity walk

The rocket seeds, which have been in space for six months with British astronaut Tim Peake, have been delivered to pupils at St John's CE First School. They will be compared with seeds that have not been in space.

The experiment is being run by the Royal Horticultural Society's campaign for school gardening and the UK Space Agency.

At least Villa can't be blamed for this

ANOTHER week, another gagging order from a celebrity trying to keep their nefarious activities out of the public eye. This time the miscreant is reported to be a Premier League football manager, a married man who reportedly demanded some extra risqué photographs as a reward when his team won away. I think, on that basis we can rule out anybody connected with Aston Villa. Because they would have been in for a very long wait.

GOOD old Barack Obama, what would we do without him? During last week's visit to Britain, he urged the people of this sceptered isle to vote in favour of remaining within the European Union, arguing that America would prefer to negotiate with large trading blocs. He's obviously forgotten that his country used to be part of the biggest trading bloc in the world. Indeed, it used to be a bit like the EU in that it charged the American people a lot of money, and gave them precious little democratic representation in return. It was called the British Empire, and I believe there were quite a few people on the other side of the Atlantic who weren't too keen on the arrangement. In fact they were so incensed that they went to war to become an independent nation. Still, that's all water under the bridge. If Britain votes to leave the EU, I'm sure we will take them back.

JUST a week to go now until the police and crime commissioner elections for the West Midlands, Staffordshire and West Mercia. While the late Bob Jones, who became the first elected commissioner for the West Midlands in 2012, famously said he hoped that his post would one day be made redundant, I always thought he did himself a disservice. Both Bob, his successor – not to mention countless other commissioners up and down the country – have done a commendable job in making the police more accountable and receptive to the general public. And despite fears about the cost, they have proved in many cases to be much cheaper than the old dinosaur-like old police committees.

That said, I do think it might be time to look at changing the name. Police commissioner, fair enough. But crime commissioner? Do we really want somebody who commissions crime?

A MURAL depicting somebody with a paint roller has appeared on the side of a balti house in Brownhills, sparking speculation about whether it is a Banksy. Sounds improbable, but what we do know is it looks a mess. While taking a spray can to other people's property may seem romantic in parts of London, for millions of working people graffiti is the bane of their lives. We should be punishing these idiots, not celebrating them.

Flattened! Factory they called Hedgehog Tools

Tools were manufactured under the world-renowned brand for nearly a century

The old Cornelius Whitehouse & Sons factory off Walsall Road, Bridgetown, is now a pile of rubble

IT was the beating industrial heart of Bridgetown, creating tools under the world-renowned brand Cornelius Whitehouse & Sons for nearly a century.

But bulldozers have now moved onto the site at Edgemoor Trade Centre in Walsall Road, to knock the units to the ground, making way for around 40 new homes. Despite the tool manufacturer, with its iconic hedgehog logo, once employing more than 300 people, the warehouses have been derelict since it closed in 1964, albeit with the occasional small business moving in to try and make use of some of the space. Last month,

Factory buildings associated with a world-famous name have gone from the skyline. CARL JACKSON reports

Cannock Chase Council approved plans to demolish the old buildings and create 24 houses and 15 apartments. Derrick Middleton, from Bridgetown and District Local History Society, explained the significance of the former Whitehouse works. He said: "Bridgetown was created because of its industry, one of which was the Whitehouse site. "Bridgetown was successful because it was right on the canal and the railway," he added. Cornelius passed the business on, and it went from strength to strength, and grew internationally. "At its height, I would say, it employed 300 to 400 people.

Cheaper

"But like many other industries, it suffered because of cheaper imports," Mr Middleton said. "Foreign companies could make an axe, not to the same quality, but for a much cheaper price." Despite the fact that the buildings were bulldozed last week, signalling the end of an icon from Bridgetown's booming past, the history society has welcomed the new development. Mr Middleton said: "As far as we are concerned, the buildings have no historical importance. "The major challenge is ensuring the 100 years are properly recorded and its place in world trade was reflected." He said that talks were under way with Leicestershire-based applicant Galliford Try with a view to incorporating an information board within the new development as part of a Bridgetown heritage trail to explain the history of the Whitehouse works – possibly inspired by its Hedgehog brand. Mr Middleton added: "The hedgehog was the company logo but many people referred to it as Hedgehog Tools. "Now some of the tools fetch as much as £100 online but it depends if the hedgehog markings are clear or not."

Take a pew for a new dining experience

Cannock entrepreneur Scott Murray is looking to roll out the Burger Priest concept in other areas of the country as a franchise

Designed with a church theme, diners will sit on church pews and will select food from hymn board menus

A NEW premium burger restaurant with a church theme is being launched by a Cannock entrepreneur – creating 30 jobs in the process.

The Burger Priest, located in the vacant Pizza Hut premises in Victoria Street, in Wolverhampton, will open for business on May 12.

The venue is costing more than £250,000 to transform and will create 30 posts including general manager roles, chefs, kitchen assistants, waiting staff and cleaners. It will also provide a take-out service.

Designed with a church theme, diners will sit on church pews and will select food from hymn board menus. The toilet booths are confession boxes.

The restaurant will be serving fresh, organic food with a range of premium burgers on offer made with 100 per cent Aberdeen Angus beef.

Cannock entrepreneur Scott Murray is the man behind the venture. The

Burger Priest founder and managing director said: "We want our burger experience to be simply the best and are confident it will be a great success."

"We are launching The Burger Priest in Wolverhampton with plans for restaurants in Edinburgh and London later in the year."

"We will then look to roll it out in other areas of the country as a franchise. It certainly is a concept we have got great confidence in."

8 Full marks to Arriva and staff

WE were amazed by PJ Appleby's letter in the April 21 issue of your paper.

Over the years we have used many bus companies in many parts of the country, and we find the majority of local Arriva drivers to be among the friendliest and most helpful that we have ever come across.

It is rare that we are not greeted with a smile and a friendly word, queries are usually dealt with in a helpful manner and if an elderly or infirm person is boarding the bus, the driver will usually not pull away until the person is safely seated.

Full marks to Arriva and to the vast majority of their local drivers, as far as we are concerned.

Bus drivers have a very stressful job

I FEEL I must write and stand up for my fellow bus drivers ("Bus drivers do not show any interest", Letters, April 21).

It is one of the most stressful jobs in the world. You drive around the busy streets full of potholes, speed humps, cars parked in positions that make it difficult to do your job, and trying to keep to a timetable and get people to where they want to go on time.

With the introduction of all these new ticket types - monthly, OAP & Staffordshire cards, phone tickets and online purchases - a bus driver picks up over 500 passengers a day and half of them, if not most, totally ignore the driver by just showing their tickets and sitting down. This makes the driver feel worthless.

How many times have you been in a shop and the workers are talking to each other while serving you, into a local garage and they are on the phone while taking your money, but you never read letters about them. The difference is that people can choose not to use those shops or garage again but you have to use the buses to get you to work, school, shops etc.

So please, next time you get on a bus, remember to speak to the driver, who may be running late due to roadworks, accidents, or the sheer number of passengers who've used the service before you.

And if all the unhappy drivers left the job, who'd be driving the buses?

A chance to reject prejudice

AS we rush gleefully for the Brexit, let's consider what we might be giving up.

Europe is not just the Single Market. EU citizenship gives us rights. I, for one, want my children to have the right to work or study abroad - valuable opportunities which could once again be the exclusive preserve of the wealthy.

Pull out of the EU and we pull out of the Social Charter too. What will Brexit replace British workers' rights with? Will they just quietly disappear? Post-EU deregulation could also sweep aside much of our consumer and environmental protection.

But more than this, the EU stands for peace in Europe. A vote to remain would reinforce our commitment to tolerance and solidarity at a time when Europe needs this as much as ever. This is our historic opportunity to reject prejudice and help build a better Europe for everyone.

Who'll be paying for this white elephant?

WE have now received news of a further mess for our region. Cannock's MP stated she wanted swift action on the redevelopment of Rugeley Power Station, which we have been told will take at least five years, but I am worried about the four million that is going into the white elephant called the M6 Toll.

I hope this is not coming out of taxpayers' pockets, especially when charities that support the vulnerable in society are having funding cut.

If this is the case I hope people will remember this when voting in local elections.

Bromford Housing, Cannock Wellbeing and Citizens Advice are all having their fund cut, so I would like to hear that no taxpayers' money is going into the toll road.

Strikes were prevented by burden of mortgages

WITH the debate on social housing reaching boiling point, may I make the following points.

The Tories will never sort this out because their friends, the private landlords, are making millions out of housing benefits.

Thatcher sold off council houses so that workers had a mortgage round their neck and wouldn't strike.

I have read Mr Blair's name mentioned in debate - he was no more a socialist than Thatcher. Perhaps the housing expert Mr Allport ("Facts about the sale of homes", Letters, April 14) has the answer to the housing shortage.

Civilian job for 'the family'

I SEE two of the Police and Crime Commissioner candidates in Staffordshire were once with the police, except they are never 'ex', so there is no point creating a civilian job and then filling it with one of the 'family', thereby creating a closed shop. The role of the job seems to be to agree with everything the Chief Constable says and get your picture in the paper with no benefit to the public.

Our Police and Crime Commissioner Candidate

George Adamson

George's pledges:

1. Protect front line police by spending more on front line policing and cutting extravagant PCC office costs.
2. Put victims first by fighting further cuts to police spending and make sure that victims are properly supported.
3. Keep policing local by stopping the Tory PCC's plan to move police to a central 'hub' miles away.

Promoted by John Thomas Kraujalis on behalf of all district Candidates all at 55 Langdale Drive, Cannock, Staffordshire, WS11 1QU and by George Sinnott on behalf of George Adamson both at 383 Huntington Terrace Road, Cannock, Staffordshire, WS11 5HX.

Vote Labour

The race is on – but where's the drama?

Candidates for the job of Staffordshire PCC lacked spark in their first debate, says ROB GOLLEDGE

POLITICAL hustings are hardly ever riveting affairs, and the first in a series of debates organised for the Staffordshire Police and Crime Commissioner election did nothing to change that.

So captivated by this thrilling race, a mighty crowd of 34 turned up to witness the candidates go head to head at Coniston Hall in Chaddsmoor.

And many of those who did turn up were prominent members of the local Labour party.

But while Holby City and One Born Every Minute was on the box, those seeking your votes for the £75,000 PCC job were outlining why you should back them. Well, nearly all of them.

UKIP's Harold Gregory, check. Paul Woodhead for the Greens, check. Labour's George Adamson, check. Incumbent and Tory candidate Matthew Ellis, check. Independent Natalie Devaney, err...

With the meeting scheduled to start at 7.30pm, there was an awkward 15-minute delay as we waited to see whether the only woman in the race would turn up. One candidate even suggested starting a Twitter hashtag #whereisNatalie? Very droll.

Mrs Devaney, a Staffordshire police officer for 30 years, handed in her warrant card eight months ago, but no sooner has she left the force, she now wants back in – this time in charge of the £177 million budget.

She informs me that she was only

The Police and Crime Commissioner hustings at Coniston Hall, Chaddsmoor

made aware of the event the previous day and that was via Mr Adamson.

Anyhow, she said she was better off spending her time handing out leaflets and meeting people, rather than speaking to a small crowd of party affiliates. And, to be honest, she may have a point.

Cordial

But for a candidate who remains a bit of a mystery, we are still to see how she performs against the established politicians like Adamson and Ellis.

But back to events in Coniston Hall, Messrs Gregory, Woodhead, Adamson and Ellis were in a cordial mood.

"I agree with everything that has been said" became a common line.

All believed in 'community policing' and all wanted the public to 'play their part'. Mr Adamson, the Labour leader of Cannock Chase Council, was on home soil and drew one distinct battle line – but it wasn't on policing at all. "I see absolutely no need for the PCC to get involved with running the fire service," he said, quickly backed up by the Green and UKIP candidates.

Mr Ellis is known as one of the architects of legislation that will potentially allow PCCs to replace existing fire authorities.

But the Conservative downplayed talk of a 'takeover' and said he thought more than £4m could be saved by removing 'silos' – his word, not mine – working from both organisations' back office.

And that was as tasty as it got – apart from Mr Gregory's suggestion of bringing in an American-style three-strikes-and-you're-out conviction system or placing known rogues under constant CCTV monitoring.

If you wanted drama, you should have stuck with Holby City. Yes, it really was that dull.

Old workmates to meet up again

Former Elliott-Lucas director Rodney Timson on the shop floor at the firm. He is travelling from Norfolk for the reunion FORMER employees at two Cheslyn Hay firms will gather for a reunion next week.

The get-together, for ex-workers at Elliott-Lucas and Abbey Dropforgings, takes place in the main hall at the Salem, High Street, Cheslyn Hay, next Tuesday, May 3, from 10am.

Rodney Timson, managing director at Abbey Dropforgings and director at Elliott-Lucas, is travelling from Norfolk to renew acquaintances with everyone that worked at the two well-known firms. Many pictures will be on display that have been held in the archives of Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society.

The established businesses were both sited in Walsall Road, Churchbridge, until 2000. Elliott-Lucas operated until the mid-80s before being taken over and becoming Britool. The site is now a housing development.

Lions almost fully grown

MEMBERS of Hednesford Lions are looking forward to being able to 'stand alone' when they become a fully-fledged club next month.

May 13 is the date they will become known as Hednesford Centennial Lions Club, the name marking the milestone anniversary of the charitable movement.

"Hednesford Lions were set up from mother club Cannock Lions," club spokesman Rob Blount said. "From forming in September 2013 with a few members it has gradually grown to 20-plus members and now qualifies to be a club in its own right.

"We are excited to become our own club and can't wait to continue and grow with more ideas and projects, working closely with members of the community. Members of Hednesford Lions are ordinary people, working together to help those less fortunate than themselves.

"In short, ordinary people doing amazing things whilst emphasising the 'fun' in fundraising. We raise funds to support local worthy causes as well as making donations to national and international Lions projects.

"Over the past couple of years we have developed contacts within our local community and are continuing to develop these all the time."

Branch chairman Shaun Middleton will lead the club in celebrating becoming an official Centennial Lions club on May 13 at the Aquarius Ballroom in Hednesford. Anyone with a project they would like supporting or who would like to contact the club can email smidd1@yahoo.co.uk

Meeting to mark 94th anniversary

Burntwood WI

APRIL marks the club's birthday meeting and this year it celebrates 94 years. Everyone is given a free raffle ticket and there is no charge for cake and tea.

Gwyneth welcomed everyone and visitor, County Chairman Sheila Molson.

After the singing of Jerusalem Gwyneth gave the news that oldest member Rene Gooch would be 100 on April 21. She recently had a pacemaker fitted and is doing well.

Unfortunately this was followed with the sad news that two former members had passed away and a member's husband had died suddenly.

The cakes for the meeting had been given by Kath Lowe to celebrate her 80th birthday. Gwyneth attended the recent Council Meeting and accepted the 60-year membership certificate on behalf of Kath Brewie who was unable to attend; she has been to see Kath to present it to her. There was feedback from the recent trip to Leeds and all who went said it was a great day out.

A celebration picnic was being held at Hammerwich Cricket Club to celebrate the Queen's 90 birthday in June.

An hour of entertainment was provided by young singer Tom Eddis, thanked by Kay Taylor.

The 75th anniversary salver was won again by Wendy Dunn. Peggy Wheeler won the Bursary for Denman College, given in memory of Pat Saunders. Adrienne Black won the competition.

Lilian honoured for her 25-year service

Lilian Hyde receives her certificate from Lynne Tuckley

SI Cannock & District

LILIAN Hyde has been a member of SI Cannock & District for 25 years and to mark the occasion she was presented with a long-service certificate.

At the AGM, outgoing President Lynne Tuckley was pleased to acknowledge the years of service to Soroptimist International – and the Cannock & District club – that Lilian has given.

Lilian has always been involved in many aspects of the club's work supporting women locally and throughout the world, joining others in raising awareness of issues, in fund-raising and providing support.

One thing Lilian is particularly well-known for in the Cannock club is the wonderful comfort bags she makes and helps to fill for the women victims of domestic violence who use the refuge provided locally by Pathway. Soroptimists and Pathway are grateful for the work Lilian does.

President Lynne also mentioned Honorary member Georgina Ward who is currently unwell. Her certificate will be presented very soon.

Move that led to royal rumpus

AT the March meeting Mary Bodfish gave an informative talk on Edward and Mrs Simpson, called You Can't Abdicate And Eat It.

Edward VIII was born June 23, 1894 and died on May 28, 1972. He is buried at Windsor. He ascended to the throne on January 20, 1936 following his father George V's death.

Chase Terrace Ladies

Months later he proposed to American divorcee Wallis Simpson, who was seeking a divorce from her second husband. He reigned for just 326 days and abdicated on December 11.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, opposed the marriage, which would have conflicted with Edward's status as the head of the Church of England.

As the Duke of Windsor, he and Simpson married in France on June 3, 1937. In the 1960s his health deteriorated and he was diagnosed with throat cancer. The Duchess died 14 years later and is buried alongside him.

Tile Choice prides itself on its excellent service and quality products

Expert training of staff is the key to success

These tiles create a monochrome look in the kitchen

TILE Choice is celebrating its 25th anniversary in business this year.

Established in 1991, Tile Choice quickly established an excellent reputation and impressive customer base, which saw the business expand rapidly across the local area and beyond.

Now boasting an impressive 16 individually designed stores throughout the West and East Midlands areas, the business continues to go from strength to strength.

Marketing director, Lee Rudkin said: "We pride ourselves on the excellent service and quality products we offer our customers. Every member of the Tile Choice team is expertly trained and able to help customers find the right products for them, as well as giving practical advice on how to plan and measure a room for tiling."

And it's this emphasis on staff training that really sets the company aside from the competition.

Mr Rudkin added: "The key to customer satisfaction is ensuring that our staff are trained in all aspects of the tile industry, so that they can properly advise the customer and meet their needs."

Tile Choice is the largest independent tile retailer in the country and is well known for its industry-leading service, products and designs. Here is the firm's story, in its own words, of its rise to success.

The company even employs mystery shoppers to visit their stores a couple of times a month to ensure that standards remain as high as possible.

Quality runs throughout the company and that's why clients can rest assured that they're buying excellent products, even though the prices are kept impressively low.

Latest

"We buy direct from leading manufacturers and because we buy in massive quantities we're able to keep prices low for our customers."

Tile Choice hold over £5million pounds worth of stock at their centralised 30,000 square foot warehouse and distribution centre.

"Clients can rest assured that we will never run out of stock and that we always have the most up-to-date choice of products."

The business work hard to stay ahead when it comes to trends and always ensure that their showrooms are packed with the latest designs.

Mr Rudkin said: "Porcelain wood-effect tiles are really popular at the moment as well as vintage-looking tiles with Victorian-inspired designs."

And the company's extensive and diverse ranges meet the needs of both domestic clients and the trade alike.

Tile Choice stock an extensive range of tools and tiling accessories, including well-known branded products, plus its own-brand adhesive tubs and bags, making a tiling job easy.

"We offer practical advice for those tiling themselves, but can also recommend local trusted trades who can complete the job if you prefer."

Customer orders are quickly dealt with via the company's warehouse, which offers support to stores, allowing customer orders to be picked out on the same-day and dispatched quickly nationwide.

"We have our own vehicle fleet to service stores on a daily basis, along with a customer delivery service that's available via every store."

The company's high standards have even been officially recognised in the industry.

"We have won awards three out of

A luxury modern look for a bathroom

These tiles give a dramatic look in the kitchen

four years running at The Tile Association (TTA) awards, which is an excellent accolade in the industry."

Tile Choice also work closely with their local community, helping to raise money for charity and sponsoring Wolverhampton Rugby Club and Walsall Football Club.

"Giving something back to the local community is really important to us, we get involved with a lot of charity events and sponsor our local teams."

The business was even on hand to help out several local families who appeared on BBC's hit show DIY SOS, where they supplied tiles so that their home renovations could be completed by the show.

So, if you are looking for an up-to-the-minute design for your kitchen, bathroom or ensuite; a traditional style or contemporary design for your lounge, hallway or conservatory, Tile Choice will meet your every requirement at exceptional prices and with a bank holiday sale this weekend every tile has 50 per cent off until Monday May 2.

Two care homes are ordered to improve

Try your hand at sailing

Five venues around Staffordshire are running Push The Boat Out events next month including Greensforge SC on Calf Heath Reservoir

FIVE clubs and centres in Staffordshire are running free or low-cost sailing sessions when the Push The Boat Out campaign aims to get the county afloat next month.

The Royal Yachting Association's festival from May 14 to 22 gives people the chance to get on the water and experience a sport they might never have thought was possible.

Clubs and centres taking part include Manor Park SC at Kings Bromley; Rudyard Lake SC near Leek; South Staffs SC near Penkridge; Greensforge SC on Calf Heath Reservoir; and Tamworth SC at Kingsbury Water Park.

There will be events such as dinghy sailing, windsurfing, bigger boats, sailing for the disabled and powerboat rides, and although each event is different, all are geared to appeal to as many people as possible, regardless of age, ability or experience.

Twenty five clubs and centres in the West Midlands region are hosting Push The Boat Out events, among 400 nationally.

Visit www.rya.org.uk/go/PTBO to find out exactly who is doing what and when.

Meanwhile, The Chase Sailing Club, based at Chasewater, is running its annual open day on Bank Holiday Monday, May 2.

TWO care homes in Staffordshire looking after people with learning difficulties have been told to improve after safety concerns.

Both Mr & Mrs P Wilson in Eccleshall Road, Stafford, and the Royal Mencap Society-run home in Lawnswood Avenue, Burntwood, have been rated 'requires improvement' by Care Quality Commission inspectors.

The Stafford home received 'requires improvement' in all five areas it was inspected - including care, responsiveness, effectiveness, safety and how well it is being led. The report found that care did not always meet people's current care needs when their needs changed but the registered manager knew people well and sought advice from other professionals when they required support.

It also found the service was not consistently caring and the relationship between the provider and person was strained. This inspection took place on March 7.

Responsive

Manager, Patricia Wilson said: "I've been registered for 20 years, and have always had really good reviews. I've done everything I can, needs change, and I wasn't impressed with the report. I run myself 24/7 around them. I do everything I'm supposed to do, so to read that was upsetting."

At the Burntwood home, the inspection on February 25 found that improvements needed to be made to make it safer, more effective and well-led - while it was rated as good in areas of 'responsive' and 'caring'.

The report said the number of staff available to care for people had not been planned around their level of need by the provider.

The environment was also reported to have not been clean and well maintained to ensure people were not at risk of cross-infection. Spokesman Jonathan Caleb-Landy said: "Mencap takes any requirements to improve the quality of support we provide to people with a learning disability very seriously. Immediately following the inspection, we took steps to begin rectifying this."

Plea for sports enthusiast

CANNOCK Shopping Centre is reminding local residents that there is still time to nominate a young sports enthusiast for its Most Improved Young Sportsperson Competition. Nominations must be received by midnight on May 2 and the winner must be available that week for a photo call and presentation at the centre to receive their award and hamper of prizes. Email nominations to cannocksec@pmwcom.co.uk or send to Cannock's Most Improved Young Sportsperson, PMW Communications Ltd, Stane Court, Stane Street, Billingshurst, West Sussex, RH14 9HP.

Relief for parents as places are revealed

THE anxiously-awaited announcement of primary school places has brought relief for parents across the region with around 90 per cent getting a place at their first choice.

Four and five-year-olds learned which primary school they will attend from September. In Staffordshire, 9,278 places have been allocated of which 92.3 per cent (8,565) were at a first choice school.

And 98 per cent (9,110) were at one of the three preferred options. The county council has added more than 1,700 primary places in the last two years to cope with an 11 per cent rise in the birth rate in Staffordshire over the last decade.

Councillor Ben Adams, cabinet member for learning and skills, said: "We estimate that over the next 5 years, we will need around 7,000 primary and 3,000 secondary school places to meet expected demand. By building new schools and making better use of existing accommodation, we can ensure the majority of parents are offered one of the top three preferred places.

Preferred

"The next 15 years will see the school landscape change in Staffordshire. This means that the work to ensure there are enough school places to cope with demand will continue for years to come."

In Walsall, 89.73 per cent of youngsters were offered their first preference, while 96.4 per cent were offered a top three choice. Some 125 pupils (3.6 per cent) were not offered a place at any preferred schools.

In Wolverhampton, 96 per cent of children were given a place at one of their top five school choices.

A total of 3,392 applications were submitted on time in Wolverhampton and of these 87.5 per cent got a place at their first choice school.

In Sandwell, 88 per cent got first choice places. Of the 4,743 applications received, 87.8 per cent (4,163) were given a place at their first choice school. The family's second choice was offered to 5.5 per cent (26), third choice to 1.3 per cent (62) and fourth choice to just 0.3 per cent (15).

A total of 88 per cent of families received first choice for primary schools in Dudley, with 97 per cent getting a top five choice.

Julien Kramer, Wolverhampton City Council's director of education, reassured parents that they could appeal their school allocation if they felt hard done by. He said: "There are unfortunately always going to be some parents and pupils disappointed because they haven't got a place at the school they wanted."

"I'd like to reassure them we will be operating waiting lists over the coming months and if places become available they will be re-allocated. Parents who are unhappy with the allocation can also appeal to an independent panel."

Plans for four homes are sent in to council

Care home staff raise £4k to help war hero

GENEROUS care home staff have chipped in to help war hero Clive Smith.

The former Sapper encountered an explosive device while serving in Afghanistan, and was forced to remortgage his home to pay for pioneering artificial limb surgery, unavailable to him in the UK through the NHS.

After undergoing surgery in Australia, Alma Court Care Home in Heath Hayes presented Clive with a cheque £4,108.50.

Staff at Alma Court, owned and operated by national care provider Avery Healthcare, launched into a range of fundraising activities, including a cake sale, tombola, bric-a-brac raffle and a car wash day.

But their most rewarding effort came through a Clive Smith Charity Night at Heath Hayes Constitutional Club on February 27.

Huge

It alone raised £2,250 with entertainment including a disco, a brass band, a singer and an Indian Bollywood dancer, while Alma Court staff raffled off donations from local businesses, including beauty appointments, a free MoT, free car service, shoes, handbags, a photoshoot, meals at local restaurants and hampers.

On receiving the cheque, Clive said: "It's a huge total to raise in such a small amount of time and will help recoup some of what I've had to spend."

"The surgery was £85,000 itself, but the amount raised by Alma Court is a significant individual donation."

Alma Court home manager Cheri Law said: "Everyone at Alma Court and sister home Abbey Court pulled together in a great effort to raise money for Clive, despite not knowing him personally."

"We had such fantastic support throughout, from people posting on our Facebook page to the charity night itself," she added.

Alma Court deputy manager Nicola Steward, Clive Smith, Alma Court activities co-ordinator Gay Wilson and Abbey Court home manager Dawn Whitehouse

"In fact Tony Preece, the partner of one of our residents, raised and donated £400 on behalf of the Royal Antidivulian Order of Buffaloes.

"It's a true credit to our team for the amount we raised."

Clive revealed that the life-changing operation had improved his mobility 100 per cent.

He is on the final stage of treatment for his left leg and is managing to walk about four or five miles a day.

He added that he was looking forward to his marriage to fiancée Jen Price next May and hopes to have found new employment later this year.

FOCUS ON RUGELEY

VIPs in special narrowboat trip

THE Inland Waterways Association took Cannock Chase MP Amanda Milling and County Councillor Mark Winnington on a narrowboat trip from Armitage to the northern end of Rugeley near to Brindley Aqueduct.

The purpose of the trip was to introduce the VIPs to some of the volunteers who have worked hard to improve the canal environment around Rugeley, and also to discuss future possibilities for improved access, 'green' through routes and the potential for tourism.

Anglo Welsh Hire Boats provided a day boat free of charge for the organisers. To find out more about the Inland Waterways Association, call Lichfield branch coordinator Margaret Beardsmore on 07581 794111.

The trip highlighted the improvements around Rugeley

Service for bereaved wins national award

By David Banner

A SERVICE which offers emotional and practical support for those who have lost a loved one – including people in Rugeley – has been recognised with a national award.

St Giles Hospice Bereavement Help Point Service, which runs a weekly session in Rugeley as well as in six other towns across the hospice's catchment area, was named Bereavement Project of the Year at the inaugural National Council for Palliative Care awards.

A free drop-in session offering advice on information on how to cope when a loved one has gone, the Rugeley help point is held on Thursdays from 10.30am to 12.30pm at the Community Room at Rugeley Community Fire Station in Bryans Lane.

It offers a chance to chat over a cup of tea with one of St Giles' dedicated bereavement support volunteers as well as meeting others similarly affected.

The service started with a single help point in Sutton Coldfield and now has seven.

Ian Leech, community engagement manager for St Giles Hospice, said: "The help points continue to go from strength to strength and Cannock is the next town on our radar."

For more information on the service, visit www.stgileshospice.com/bhp or call 01543 434536.

Sophie at the double again

Sophie Ravenscroft – medals winner

FOR the second time in a growing career Sophie Ravenscroft has won two silver medals at the International Global Project for Inclusive Skating held in Glasgow.

A keen figure skater, she has been skating for the last 19 months at the Silverblade rink in Cannock and sometimes attends bigger rinks in Solihull and Coventry to practise her growing array of figure skating skills.

Sophie, who attends Chase View Primary School, Rugeley, is coached by Sarah Carter who has played a huge part in helping her to win her medals.

The eight-year-old has not let the fact she has cystic fibrosis get in her way of enjoying her favourite pastime.

Equally, her parents Gemma and Ian are bursting with pride, travelling the length and breadth of Britain with their daughter.

Customers' spec-tacular gift for charity

CUSTOMERS have helped a Rugeley opticians collect more than 1,000 pairs of unwanted spectacles for charity over the past year.

The team from Specsavers in Upper Brook Street has been asking customers to drop off their old glasses for Vision Aid Overseas (VAO). A recent shipment of 22 pairs means the overall total now stands at more than 1,000. Once the spectacles have been donated to VAO, they are recycled and sold on to support the charity's ongoing work in developing countries.

Specsavers Rugeley store director Minal Naik said: "Donating your old glasses really helps to drive funds for the charity, giving people in developing countries with poor eyesight valuable access to eyecare."

To find out more or to drop off old glasses, call in at Specsavers at 5, Upper Brook Street, Rugeley, WS15 2DP, call 01889 576060 or visit www.specsavers.co.uk/stores/rugeley

New charity shop to open

SIGHT loss charity the Beacon Centre is set to open its first shop in South Staffordshire, creating two new jobs. The Penkridge store will open its doors on May 25, joining branches in Cannock, Bloxwich and around the Black Country. The new shop, which is located at Stone Cross on the A449, will stock a range of products, from clothing and shoes to household items. Customers will also be able to get regular sight loss advice. Beacon Centre's head of enterprise operations Tracey Ford said: "We have been keen to move into South Staffordshire for a long time."

MP pitches in again over sport at estate

A STAFFORDSHIRE MP has vowed to write to the National Trust again as the row over sports pitches at Shugborough rages on.

Jeremy Lefroy, who has already been defied by the trust once, will go back to plead for more time for the sports clubs who use the pitches to find new playing areas. His comments follow a 1,100-signature petition which he presented to the Commons.

Shugborough Hall

The National Trust, which is taking over the site in the summer from Staffordshire County Council, has said it will turn the pitches into parkland. Mr Lefroy, MP for Stafford, said the clubs who are being uprooted are 'not being given enough time' to find somewhere else to play, and that he was hoping for the trust to be 'more open' than when he first contacted it over the future of the pitches.

He said: "The clubs could find new places to play but at the moment they are not being given enough time. It is difficult to find facilities for sport at the moment."

Response

"They should be able to play there until somewhere else suitable has been found. "I have written to the trust in the past and they basically wrote back saying sorry, and this was before the petition was presented. "I am now considering what to do in response. "I will get back to them in some form and try and at least get a postponement," Mr Lefroy added.

"When I wrote back the first time I was hoping for something a bit more open from them. "They are closing all of Shugborough to get it ready for the season which I of course support but the pitches make up a tiny proportion, they could be kept open."

Campaigners are concerned that teams using the pitches, which have been in use since 1960, will be forced to fold and taxpayers' money would be spent removing the facilities.

The National Trust has maintained that Shugborough is a Grade One registered parkland and not a sports pitch or field.

It has reiterated that it is not its responsibility to 'provide sports facilities' and that it has been generous by not uprooting the teams mid-season.

An NT spokesman said: "We have given the teams six months notice to find somewhere else. It is really not the trust's role to provide sports facilities."

Football fans in fight as coaches stop at services

FOOTBALL fans clashed at the M6 Toll service station at Norton Canes during a stop before Saturday's FA Cup semi-final at Wembley.

The brawl between Everton and Manchester United fans broke out just after 10.15am. Chief Insp Darren Oakley, of Staffordshire Police, said about 200 fans had congregated at the site when trouble erupted.

Videos of the violence showing an Everton fan punched to the ground were posted on social media. The fight took place on the car park as supporters milled about by their coaches, chatting and drinking.

One eye witness said: "I saw all the chanting and made my way over for a bit of what I thought to be light-hearted banter. "Before I realised what was going on, it had escalated rather quickly and punches were being thrown. "An Everton fan stepped in to try and break up the melee, only to be set upon by three United fans who quickly punched him to the ground before stamping on him. Someone shouted 'Police' and everyone involved seemed to disperse and blend into the crowd."

It is reported that 57 football specials stopped at the services on the day. Police said no arrests were made.

New prison workshop to create 400 inmates' jobs

Trust support in store

Trust chairman David Dixon receives the cheque for £530 from Waitrose Lichfield store organiser Sarah Fry SHOPPERS at Waitrose have given a boost to Lichfield and Hatherton Canals Restoration Trust. The organisation has received a donation of more than £500, thanks to Lichfield store customers.

Under the store's Community Matters scheme, shoppers are asked to vote for a donation to their favoured charity by placing a green token into a box.

Each month, every Waitrose store donates £1,000 to local good causes, divided between three organisations, with the amount given to each determined by the number of tokens in the collection. Thanks to support from shoppers, Lichfield & Hatherton Canals Trust has been awarded £530 from the March collection.

In receiving a cheque from the store organiser Sarah Fry, Trust chairman David Dixon said: "We are very grateful to Waitrose for this helpful donation which is the third time from this source in recent years."

"It is good to know that so many of the shoppers support restoration of the nearby Lichfield Canal in this way."

A HUGE workshop the size of a football pitch will create 400 jobs for prisoners at HMP Oakwood.

The building is being constructed at the jail in Featherstone and has been supported by a top government minister.

It could see work relocated to the site that is currently done abroad.

More than 40 companies, including the vehicle maintenance wing of BT and clothing company Dimensions, have already expressed an interest.

The building, to be completed in the summer, will also provide training opportunities.

It comes as the jail is to increase the number of prisoners by 20 per cent to more than 2,000.

The facility will provide employment and training for up to 400 prisoners at the G4S-managed jail which already has inmates working in carpentry, plastics and plumbing assembling, refurbishing electrical appliances and at a call centre.

Expanded

G4S says the scheme better equips prisoners for when they are released.

Director Jerry Petherick, said: "We know that offenders are less likely to re-offend if they gain employment after release and the expanded workshop will provide new opportunities for prisoners and businesses to contribute positively to society."

Prisons Minister Andrew Selous said: "The skills training provided at HMP Oakwood is exactly the kind of meaningful training which gives prisoners a chance to turn their lives around for good through sustained job opportunities when they leave prison."

Carl Tennant, commercial director for clothing supplier Dimensions, said: "We look forward to seeing how we can work with G4S and being part of the Prison Industry workshop now and in the future."

field and 20 from Stafford and Cannock, award-winning Hawkesyard Estate is one of Staffordshire's premier venues for civil weddings, celebrations, conferences, meetings and both indoor and outdoor events.

Situated in over 150 acres of beautiful Staffordshire countryside, Hawkesyard Estate dates back to 1270, when the local gentry used the land for hunting. In 1999 the hall was purchased by Relaine Estates, Ltd who decided to use the original name of Hawkesyard and set about restoration of the building partly by using photographs from the Shugborough collection dating back to 1870.

The transformation of the hall and outer buildings was completed in 2007. Under the guidance of company director Ruth Whorton and operations manager Sarah Carter, the business has gone from strength to strength.

A unique and stunning setting, the estate is home to the grand Grade II listed Hawkesyard Hall. Combining a Gothic, romantic and picturesque feel, the 18th Century building boasts all the battlements and pinnacles to create the perfect fairytale wedding.

Young and old alike celebrate Queen's 90th

CELEBRATIONS took place all over Staffordshire to mark the Queen's 90th birthday before a chain of beacons lit up the night sky. Street parties and balloon releases were held to mark the milestone.

Pupils at Etching Hill Primary School in Rugeley had a 'wonderful day' celebrating the royal birthday in style. Dressed in red, white and blue, the children put out handmade bunting, along with 'crowns and tiaras'. At lunchtime, tables were moved outside for a whole-school street party. The kitchen staff baked and decorated 400 red, white and blue cupcakes for all of the children to enjoy.

The afternoon was completed with a sing-along in the hall, including a rousing rendition of Happy Birthday.

Meanwhile, pupils at Chancel Primary School in Rugeley released 200 red, white and blue balloons and sang Happy Birthday while every pupil enjoyed a piece of cake.

Supervisor Cheryl Tiernan said: "It was a lovely way to celebrate. The pupils were also singing the first verse of the National Anthem in our assembly."

Children at Little Treasures Nursery in Chadsmoor and Rugeley celebrated by making crowns, baking cakes and enjoying a tea party with friends, before singing Happy Birthday. Beacons were lit at several locations including The Museum of Cannock Chase; Market Square, Rugeley; and Victoria Park in Stafford.

Over in Birmingham, staff at Cadbury World found a unique way to wish Her Majesty a happy birthday by creating their own version of Buckingham Palace - made entirely out of chocolate.

Incredible

Weighing almost 60kg and standing 70cm tall, the iconic building, which took two days to make, was finished with an edible gold and silver lustre and the intricate British royal coat of arms which was piped by hand.

Marketing manager Diane Mitchell said: "The Queen turning 90 is an incredible cause for celebration, so we've marked the occasion in the best way we know how - by recreating her home with chocolate."

There were celebrations of a different kind at Dudley Zoo where staff were spoiling their own regal resident - lioness Kyra - for her 10th birthday. To mark the milestone she was given a hessian sack full of used animal bedding and catnip, sporting the familiar red, white and blue of the Union Flag.

Media and communications officer Rachel Hickman said: "We hope the Queen had a very happy day - Kyra was certainly very taken with her birthday present."

Die-hard royal fans, schoolchildren, well-wishers and tourists flocked to Windsor with gifts for the monarch as she left her

Children at Etching Hill Primary School celebrating the Queen's 90th birthday in style

Windsor Castle home for a walkabout. Fluttering above the castle's round tower was a huge version of the royal standard used for major celebrations.

People lined the streets with presents, from bouquets and home-made birthday cards to soft toys and balloons.

More events to mark the birthday will take place later in the year.

Next month, there will be a 90-minute extravaganza with 900 horses and more than 1,500 riders and performers at the Royal Windsor Horse Show.

The event will be held every evening from May 12 to 15, with the Queen attending on the final evening.

On June 10, there will be a service of thanksgiving at St Paul's Cathedral followed by Trooping the Colour the next day.

The final event on June 12 will see the The Mall in London transformed into a giant street party for The Patron's Lunch.

Rising HS2 costs to last 20 years claims Prescott

THE soaring costs of the controversial HS2 project will continue for two decades, ex-Deputy Prime Minister John Prescott has warned. The High Speed Rail (London-West Midlands) Bill went through its second reading last week before the House of Lords.

Lord Prescott questioned whether the second part of the route linking to the north would actually happen, claiming the escalating costs of the project would 'continue for the next 20 years' further calling for an end to 'inequalities' in transport spending urging investment in northern infrastructure.

He said: "I hope my contribution is not seen to be negative. It's a different view. It's not the Government's view or the Opposition's view."

"It's a northern view - a different perspective of what we are doing with this investment in HS2."

But defending the sum which currently stands at £55.7 billion, Lord Ahmed told peers the costs had never actually risen except for inflation.

He said: "With regards to the costs we are committed to delivering value for money."

"The budget has not gone up. It has simply been updated in line with inflation."

"HS2 is a major commitment of public money but it is an investment which Britain must make. We cannot afford not to."

He added: "HS2 is greater than the sum of its parts."

Opportunities

"It's not just a railway with fast trains. It's not just about capacity and connectivity. It's truly about potential."

"It's about creating opportunities. It is about what is needed to produce a better and brighter future for our country and economy, for connectivity across the UK."

Lord Adonis, chairman of the National Infrastructure Commission, said upgrading existing routes was not an option claiming the last improvements to the West Coast mainline cost £9 billion, £1 billion of which was compensation to train operators for disruption.

He said: "Upgrading a busy mainline railway is like conducting open heart surgery"

Ex-Deputy Prime Minister Lord Prescott - 'a major commitment of public money' on a moving patient. It's hardly a compelling alternative to HS2 let alone a cheap one."

He added: "I am not aware of a single country that has introduced high-speed rail between its major cities and now thinks that this was a mistake."

"Of course there are major challenges ahead, not least to keep HS2 to time and to budget, but we are right to be taking HS2 forward. It will change the country for the better and it can't come soon enough."

Court puts brakes on highway menace

STREET racers are being warned they could lose their car, their job or even their liberty if they take part in a car cruise in the Black Country.

An injunction is in force banning people from taking part in a car cruise anywhere within the four Black Country boroughs – Dudley, Sandwell, Walsall and Wolverhampton – or from promoting, organising or publicising such an event.

The injunction defines car cruising as the act of drivers meeting on the public highway on an organised or impromptu basis to race or show off in their cars, and anyone breaching it risks being in contempt of court, for which they could face up to two years in prison and a fine.

To date, 11 people have been convicted of breaching the injunction and have received suspended prison sentences and ordered to pay costs.

Police can also take action against individuals for traffic offences including driving without due care and attention, driving without insurance – no insurance policy covers illegal street racing – or driving an unroadworthy vehicle.

The injunction was introduced last year to tackle the menace of car cruising, which was blighting the lives of residents and having a detrimental impact on businesses throughout the region. And it has had an instant impact, with police and councils reporting a significant reduction in car cruising across the Black Country, and the problem being eliminated altogether in many areas. The injunction prohibits a number of activities and consequences typically associated with car cruising, including speeding, racing or driving in convoy, performing stunts, obstructing the highway, excessive noise, and causing the risk of harm to people or property.

The injunction also prohibits car cruise gatherings like this, in a supermarket car park

Chief Inspector Jed White from West Midlands Police's Motorway Policing unit said: "Street racing is completely unacceptable and we will not tolerate it."

"People who think about taking part in a car cruise – whether as a driver, passenger or even spectator – should be very clear about the likely consequences."

"The same applies to people who either organise a car cruise or actively promote it."

"Anyone who is convicted of contempt of court by breaching the injunction could face jail or be hit with a large fine."

"At the same time, by committing traffic offences they could be banned from driving or have their car seized."

The four Black Country councils and West Midlands Police secured the ground-breaking injunction after receiving hundreds of complaints about car cruising from residents and businesses over a number of years.

They ranged from complaints about dangerous driving, speeding and vehicles and spectators obstructing highways or residential or business properties, to excessive noise, littering, verbal abuse and intimidation.

There has been a significant reduction in car cruising activity across the Black Country since the injunction came into force, and Chief Insp White added: "The injunction enables us, together with our partners, to continue to tackle those individuals who flout the laws of the road and pose a danger for innocent members of the public."

● For more information about the injunction, please visit <http://bit.ly/carcrusingban>. Incidents of car cruising should be reported to West Midlands Police on 101. In an emergency, always dial 999.

Injunction details

1 It is forbidden for anyone to participate in "car cruising" (as defined in the schedule below) anywhere within the claimants' combined geographical area known locally as the Black Country Area.

2 It is also forbidden for anyone to promote, organise, or publicise via e-mail, the internet or any publication or broadcast, any "car cruising" within the defined geographical area.

3 A power of arrest pursuant to section 27 Police and Criminal Justice Act 2006 shall apply to clause 1 above.

4 The order and power of arrest shall continue for 3 years following the commencement of this order or until it is varied or discharged by the court. This order shall come into effect at midnight on 2 February 2015 provided that the Claimants have completed certain steps. It shall, subject to further order, expire at midnight 1 February 2018.

5 Personal service of this injunction is dispensed with pursuant to rule 81.8 of the Civil Procedure Rules.

Schedule

1 "Car Cruising" means two or more motor vehicles (including motorbikes) between the hours of 3pm and 7am being on a highway or in a publicly accessible place within the Black Country Area at which any such vehicle or occupant of a vehicle performs any of the prohibited activities listed in clause 3 below which causes, or is capable of causing, any of the prohibited consequences set out in clause 4 below.

2 "Participating in car cruising" means being the driver of, or being carried in (or on), a motor vehicle (including motorbikes) in circumstances in which paragraph 1 above applies.

3 The prohibited activities referred to in clause 1 above are: speeding; driving in convoy; racing; performing stunts; sounding horns/playing music as to cause a significant public nuisance; using foul or abusive language; using threatening, intimidating behaviour towards another person; and causing obstruction on a public highway, whether moving or stationary.

4 The prohibited consequences referred to in clause 1 above are: excessive noise; danger or risk of injury to road users (including pedestrians); damage or significant risk of damage to property; significant risk of harm; significant public nuisance; and significant annoyance to the public.

● The full injunction and map showing the geographical area is available at <http://bit.ly/carcrusingban> and council offices.

The home at Hoar Cross could be yours for £2.75m

Sprawling property with cool £2.7m tag

GOT a spare few million in the bank?

Well, this country house fit with five bedrooms and its own leisure centre, including a 15-metre pool, cinema room and sauna, is on the market at a price of £2.75million.

Birchwood House in Hoar Cross, near Lichfield, could soon have some new occupants after its price was slashed by 200 grand.

The property was built back from scratch back in 2008 and the eco-friendly house is said to be much cheaper to keep running than other properties of a similar size.

The mansion is set in the middle of 26 acres of Staffordshire countryside and is just around the corner from the luxurious Grade II listed Hoar Cross Hall Spa Hotel should the future owner fancy spoiling themselves with a pamper day.

But then the home itself does have a pool and sauna.

Crispin Harris, an estate agent at Jackson-Stops & Staff who are dealing with house's sale, said there had been a lot of interest in the property since the current owners dropped the price.

"Birchwood House is an entirely new built property which my clients built themselves to a very high standard; the quality of fittings in the house is just incredible," he said.

Features

"It is very eco-friendly so although its got an enormous swimming pool and underfloor heating the running costs are relatively low."

"There are all sorts of wonderful features in the house. It has its own cinema room which doubles up as a bar and there are flick and switch blinds that come down throughout the building."

"I think it is exceptional, I really love it, the more I go there I like it, I can't afford it sadly but if I could I would."

"It really is special and perfect for someone that likes a property with a contemporary twist."

The cutting-edge home has made use of light and glass, with rooms that, with the use of sliding and bi-folding doors, bring the exterior of the countryside within.

Fittings include a white gloss and granite-topped kitchen, stone and oak floors and designer fittings to the wet rooms, together with a home intelligent system with digitally controlled lighting, surround sound, electric curtains and blinds and underfloor heating.

Mr Harris added: "The setting is fantastic. The property sits in over 26 acres of beautiful rolling countryside. And it employs the use of a lot of glass so although you are cocooned inside you feel like you're outside in the countryside.

"It is at Hoar Cross which is a very sought-after location in the Midlands and obviously Hoar Cross Hall is a famous spa hotel."

"There's also a famous girls school nearby in Abbots Bromley which might be a consideration."

"It could be anybody, interest to a sportsman or a well known personality because its very private there. But lots of wealthy business people who appreciate great things and want to live in lovely places."

Duncan delighted that life's a drag

FROM boy band hunk to drag queen — Duncan James is barely recognisable in his latest stage role.

The tattooed star of Blue could hardly look any more camp donned in bright platform shoes and a dress made of pink and yellow flip-flops.

Starring as Tick in hit musical Priscilla Queen of the Desert, he will be at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre for a six-day run from Monday.

As one of four members of pop band Blue, James sold more than 16 million records and is sure to draw crowds from across the Black Country.

As Tick and his alter ego drag queen Mitzi, James will be stepping into the frocks previously worn by the likes of Jason Donovan and Darren Day.

Aussie

Priscilla Queen of the Desert is based on the 1994 Australian film, The Adventures of Priscilla: Queen of the Desert, and follows the journey of two drag queens and a transsexual woman as they travel across the Aussie outback. On the road the trio meet a variety of characters and have to deal with a whole host of difficult situations including homophobic abuse and facing up to their pasts.

The action is accompanied on stage by a dazzling array of outrageous costumes and a hit parade of dance-floor favourites including Say a Little Prayer, Go West, Hot Stuff and Always on My Mind.

Joining James in the lead roles are Simon Green as Bernadette and Adam Bailey as Felicia.

the show, James tweeted: "Feels so strange to be on stage in Priscilla after having five weeks off! It's a weird feeling but finding my feet again — or should I say heels. It's going to be fabulous."

During winter 2014-15 the hunky singer, who had three number one albums and 40 number one singles worldwide with Blue, starred as Jack in the pantomime Jack and the Beanstalk at Birmingham Hippodrome. He is also known for appearing on the 2007 series of Dancing on Ice.

Actor back in winning role

ONE of the most highly acclaimed new plays of the decade is coming to Birmingham Rep in the production that won Kenneth Cranham the Olivier Award for best actor this year.

Following an acclaimed run in London, the veteran actor will return to the role that saw him take theatre's most celebrated prize.

The Father will be staged at Birmingham Repertory Theatre from Tuesday to Saturday, May 7.

The play was written by French playwright Florian Zeller and received an unprecedented ten five-star reviews from national newspaper theatre critics.

The crisp and witty translation by Christopher Hampton of this intriguing and compelling drama sees Cranham reprise his unforgettable performance as Andre, and is joined by Amanda Drew, as his daughter Anne.

The character is an 80-year-old former tap dancer, or was he an engineer? The thing is, he is still wearing his pyjamas, can't find his watch, and is starting to wonder if he's losing control.

Cranham's many credits includes major roles in the West End and on Broadway, TV including Shine On Harvey Moon, Rome, The Tenant of Wildfell Hall, and films ranging from Chocolat and Made In Dagenham to Hellraiser II.

Performances are at 7pm on Tuesday and at 7.30pm from Wednesday to Saturday with matinees on Thursday and Saturday. Tickets start at £13.50 and can be bought by calling 0121 236 4455 or visiting birmingham-rep.co.uk website.

New comedy series is a real Royal affair

To mark the Queen's 90th birthday, there have been a few programmes that have promised an intriguing – but respectful – insight into what life is really like behind the closed doors of Buckingham Palace.

However, Channel 4's new sitcom The Windsors, which comes from Bert Tyler-Moore and George Jeffrie, aka the people who brought us Star Stories, definitely doesn't fall into that category. Instead, it presents the royals as we've never seen them before.

Bert explains: "It's looking at the real Royal Family, so using the real people – Will, Kate etcetera – as our characters, and presenting them in a larger-than-life, fictional soap opera."

"So it's the real life Windsors, but done as if they're in something like Dynasty or Dallas. It's a very heightened and very silly parody version of reality, I suppose."

He adds: "We know the real Wills flies a helicopter, so we've exaggerated that to the Nth degree and have stories where our Wills is a real action-hero guy flying a helicopter and saving people's lives and behaving like a Tom Cruise-type character."

You might think that the writing duo had planned the series to coincide with the Queen's birthday, but it seems there is no real agenda behind The Windsors beyond making people laugh.

Bert says: "We never really thought 'Oh wow, the Royal Family are crying out to be done.' They're an institution that is always there. I think we just thought it was a funny idea, and then I suppose when we started thinking about it more seriously, we realised that they hadn't really been done properly since Spitting Image, and that's a long, long time ago. That's 25-30 years ago now."

In fact, it seems if anything, working on the series has made the writers fonder of the royals in general – and one member in particular.

George says: "I like our Prince Edward, who's sort of our age group. He's a contemporary of ours, and he's often perceived as such a failure. So we've enjoyed a trip down memory lane, bringing up things people may have forgotten. Things like getting into Cambridge with a C and two D's. It's a Royal Knockout, being booted out of the marines after a couple of months."

"It's all in good fun. I like him a lot. They're all great, but I think he's my favourite."

We'll get to meet the rest of the Windsors in this opening double bill, including Prince Charles (Harry Enfield) as he tries to keep order, Wills (Hugh Skinner), who wants to mingle with people, and Pippa Middleton (Morgana Robinson), who is determined to bag a prince of her own.

The opening edition finds Kate (Louise Ford) attempting to win the royals over by helping Harry (Richard Goulding) with his fancy dress ball at Buckingham Palace. However, she'll have to contend with a gate-crashing Sarah Ferguson (Katy Wix), and a scheming Camilla (Haydn Gwynne), who is out to sabotage her efforts.

The Windsors, Friday, Channel 4, 10pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY

Invictus: The Road to the Games BBC1, 7pm

Named after Invictus, the Latin for 'Unconquered, Undefeated', the 2014 games in London were a resounding success with around 300 competitors from 13 countries competing in athletics, archery, indoor rowing, powerlifting, road cycling, sitting volleyball, swimming, wheelchair basketball and wheelchair rugby. In this one-off documentary, Nick Knowles shares the inspiring stories of men and women in the armed forces who have been wounded, injured or suffer from PTSD as they vie for a place in the UK Armed Forces Team at this year's event at Walt Disney World, near Orlando, Florida. Meanwhile, the brains behind the Invictus Games, Prince Harry, catches up with some of the competitors from two years ago and talks about his hopes for the forthcoming event, which he launched alongside First Lady Michelle Obama last October.

TUESDAY

In the Club BBC1, 9pm

Kay Mellor's drama returns, picking up the action 10 months (although some viewers might think nine might be more appropriate) after we last saw the group of new mums, who first met at a Parent Craft class. Kim is doing her best to look after her little daughter Emily, but her relationship with Neil is looking shaky, especially as she prepares to see her ex-girlfriend Susie for the first time since they split up. Meanwhile, it seems 10 months isn't long enough for Dev to live down the fact that he locked baby Amber in a van, as his and wife Jasmin's mothers have moved in and are refusing to leave. Sadly though, that's about to be the least of their problems.

WEDNESDAY

Mary Beard's Ultimate Rome: Empire Without Limit BBC2, 9pm

English Classical scholar Mary Beard explores the physical world of the Roman Empire, finding surprising parallels with our own world. She discovers a vast empire bound together by a common material culture, and a globalised economy of such scale that evidence of its side-effects can still be seen today. As Mary examines a huge commercial and cultural network, she takes in the vital supply of olive oil to Rome, the slave trade, and the silver mines of Spain. Following the famous Roman road network, the presenter also reveals another side to the Roman Empire, where builders and traders eclipse soldiers, and slaves make the most of a hugely connected new world.

THURSDAY

Peaky Blinders BBC2, 9pm

New series. Cillian Murphy returns as Birmingham-based mobster Thomas Shelby in the third run of author Steven Knight's period drama. At the end of the last series, having outwitted his enemies once again, Shelby announced he was getting married – but who to? At last the long-awaited ceremony has arrived, but in the middle of the celebrations, a mysterious visitor puts the entire Shelby family in danger, pulling the mob boss into a web of intrigue more lethal than anything he has yet encountered. Helen McCrory, Paul Anderson, Sophie Rundle and Joe Cole star as the family, with an appearance from Alexander Siddig (last seen as Dorne ruler Doran Martell in Game of Thrones).

FRIDAY

MasterChef: The Finals BBC1, 8.30pm

After seven weeks of challenges, the search for the country's best amateur cook reaches its climax. The three hopefuls must push themselves to the limit for one last time as they face the final challenge of producing three exceptional courses, in which they must push the culinary boundaries to ensure that they impress the judges. Then it's over to John Torode and Gregg Wallace, as they decide which of the trio deserves to succeed last year's victor Simon Wood and be crowned MasterChef Champion 2016. Last in the series.

The Secret

ITV, 9pm

When Lesley inherits money from her father and threatens to leave him, it forces Colin's hand, and with Hazel's help he puts his murderous plan in motion. James Nesbitt stars.

UKIP is pleased to contest all thirteen seats in the forthcoming Local elections for Cannock Chase District Council.

Our candidates come from all walks of life and are eager to make a difference to the way Cannock Chase is represented. We have local people who are prepared to fight for Local Homes for Local People, to campaign to keep the NHS free for all UK residents and reduce energy bills. UKIP believe in the people having their say on big local issues rather than Westminster dictating what we must accept. Instead of paying money to the EU to be denied our freedom we want to spend it at home on our own people.

If you want to change Cannock for the better, for the only party that did not want Rugeley Power Station to close, please vote for UKIP. We will deliver.

Civic Sport variant launched

Honda has announced a new addition to the popular British-built Civic range. The 1.4 i-VTEC Civic Sport will become the entry level product in the Civic family when it hits showrooms next month.

Priced at £18,360 OTR or £199 a month on a three year PCP deal with 5.9% APR and a deposit of £3,415, the new 1.4-litre petrol engine variant, available in manual transmission, joins the 1.6-litre, 120 PS diesel engine and the 1.8-litre, 142 PS petrol engine in the Civic Sport line up.

Specifically styled as a more sporty and aggressive version of the family hatchback, the Civic Sport features a unique colour-coded rear spoiler and 17-inch alloy wheels and shares some of the striking design characteristics of the Civic Type R, with a lower grille mesh and a black roof lining for the cabin.

The advanced 1.4-litre i-VTEC single overhead camshaft (SOHC) engine has been fine-tuned to boost both its dynamic performance and its environmental credentials. CO2 emissions are at 131 g/km while the engine delivers a maximum power output of 100 PS and a torque figure of 127 Nm.

With the next generation Civic concept unveiled at the Geneva Motor Show and due in showrooms at the start of 2017, Honda UK is revising the current Civic family line up in line with customer demand. The Sport will become the entry level with the SE and SR grades completing the line up.

Philip Crossman, managing director at Honda UK, said: "The addition of the 1.4-litre petrol engine version of the Sport strengthens our Civic family line up and makes the more aggressively styled version of our popular family hatchback more accessible.

"The smaller engine makes the Civic Sport more economical and more efficient and therefore a much more attractive proposition."

The new 1.4 i-VTEC Civic Sport will be available in Honda showrooms from May onwards.

A6 Allroad all-round monster

By John Griffiths

AUDI'S powerful A6 allroad is something of a one-off – it's hard to find a direct competitor to this big and powerful luxury estate car with the ability to take the rough with the smooth.

There are cheaper 4x4 estates, of course, than the £55,000 allroad, and there are the full-on SUVs. But the Audi seems to fill a niche between the two genre, and as we've seen so often in the car market filling the right niche is the way to win sales.

The test car was the flagship of the relatively limited range, powered by the punchy 320PS, 3.0 litre bi-turbo diesel, with a whopping 640NM of torque providing maximum pulling power from a low 1,400rpm. That's enough to propel this big, two tonne monster from a standstill to 62mph in just 5.5 seconds. There are other versions, with 218 and 272PS, for those who want to reduce the cost of acquisition and ownership.

The allroad's primary 'home' is on the road, a premium saloon which, arguably thanks to its air suspension, offers an even more refined experience than its sibling, the 'standard' A6 Avant. But that system is also key (along with its quattro four wheel drive system) to its ability to cope off-road, too. A touch of a button on the central control screen allows you to raise the ride height by 60mm to tackle rougher tracks and fields.

The cabin, which exudes quality, can seat five adults in comfort and still have room for an impressive 654 litres of cargo (1,680 with the rear seats folded).

With the suspension set at its lowest level for the roads, the driving experience is very much that of premium saloon. It remains smooth and quiet even over poorly surfaced B-roads, but despite its size it remains stable and agile through the twisty sections.

The Tiptronic automatic transmission responds rapidly to demands for power, and there's plenty to spare, for a quick overtake without the need to rev or stress the engine. And having eight speeds to choose from means the higher top helps the allroad achieve its impressive 43.5mpg official average. Progress feels calm, almost lazy, but deceptively quick so that you need to be alert to avoid breaking the law: the head-up display (which projects your current speed on your eye-line) is a useful if costly £1,240 extra to this end.

The allroad, as a range flagship, naturally comes with all the expected creature comforts of leather, electrically adjustable and heated seats, multi-zone climate control, a premium audio system and full connectivity. The car's systems, from air suspension adjustments to satnav and comprehensive trip computer, are controlled via the central colour touchscreen, with further remote controls on the steering wheel. The A6 allroad offers more space and considerably more power (in some cases twice as much) as potential 4x4 estate rivals from Volvo and Subaru.

It doesn't claim to offer the ultimate off-road ability of some of its full-blown SUV competitors but there will be potential buyers who – as Audi is aware – don't want or need that: how many owners really do risk a car costing tens of thousands in extreme terrain.

So Audi has produced a car which is rather less of a mud plugger but with the on-road manners of a premium saloon. And for less cost, with its lighter weight and slipperier aerodynamics helping to save fuel and giving it a highly competitive (in this class) and tax efficient 172g/km CO2 rating.

It has produced a 'crossover' version of a premium saloon which its principle German rivals don't have, and it may well be that one of its principle rivals turns out to be Jaguar's new F-Pace.

Hyundai's Tucson gets sixth option powertrain

By James Parker

Hyundai's new Tucson compact SUV now offers a sixth powertrain option. An efficient 1.7-litre diesel with seven-speed double clutch transmission (7DCT) has been added to attract even more customers.

The new Tucson is Hyundai Motor's fastest-selling European model with more than 115,000 cars ordered in Europe. The powertrain range of the compact SUV – already one of the widest in the segment – is now further extended with the addition of the dynamic 104 kW (141 PS) 1.7-litre turbo diesel engine. In combination with the efficient seven-speed double clutch transmission (7DCT) and front wheel drive it emits only 129 g of CO<sub>2</sub> and consumes a moderate 4.9 litres of diesel per 100 kilometres (combined). The turbo diesel engine provides a maximum torque of 340 Nm over a wide rev range of 1,750 rpm to 2,500 rpm.

Hyundai Motor's in-house developed 7DCT system offers a choice between fully automatic operation and sequential manual gear changes, selected with the gear lever for greater driver involvement.

Efficiency

The 7DCT provides 20 per cent higher fuel efficiency and lower CO<sub>2</sub> emissions compared to a six-speed automatic transmission. For further efficiency the new powertrain also comes with the Integrated Stop & Go (ISG) system as standard, which is also available for the 1.7-litre (low power), and the 2.0-litre standard-power diesel engines as well as the 1.6-litre petrol engine.

The Tucson is one of the safest vehicles in its segment and received the maximum five-star Euro NCAP safety rating. It benefits from a solid body structure featuring 51 per cent of ultra-high strength steel for improved torsional rigidity and impact resistance and a host of innovative passive and active safety features like autonomous emergency braking with pedestrian recognition that stops the car automatically if a crash is predicted. The Tucson's list of safety features also includes a blind spot detection alerts the driver to approaching vehicles, rear cross traffic alert which scans a 180-degree area behind the vehicle alerting the driver if there is approaching cross-traffic and the lane keeping assist system applying steering correction in case of unintended lane departure. Additionally the Active Hood cushions the impact shock in case of a frontal collision.

Hyundai Motor manufactures 100 per cent of Tucson models sold in European markets at its facility in the Czech Republic – a key part of its commitment to the region. Hyundai's confidence in its European build quality means that every Tucson comes with the company's industry-leading five year unlimited mileage warranty as standard.

The new Tucson is a five-door compact SUV (C-SUV), with a high-strength steel construction body shell. Customers have the choice between two petrol and four diesel transversely-mounted engines driving the front wheels, or all four wheels via a six-speed manual or automatic as well as a seven-speed double clutch transmission (7DCT).

Light, lithe, fashionable Vitara SUV from Suzuki

By James Parker

The Vitara is the kind of youthful, dynamic-looking product that buyers of compact crossover models seem to want. On paper, it certainly seems to tick all the 'Juke-genre' boxes, with lifestyle looks, trendy cabin technology and superministandards of efficiency.

The performance-orientated 1.4-litre petrol turbo engine is one of Suzuki's newest units and gives this car a reasonable turn of speed, enabling it to make 62mph in 10.2 seconds en route to 124mph. Otherwise, the mechanicals aren't anything too surprising, shared as they are with the existing SX-4 S-Cross. That means buyers get to choose between either a 1.6-litre petrol engine or a much preferable Fiat-sourced 118bhp 1.6 diesel, both being offered in front or four-wheel drive guises.

The petrol engine is fitted with a five-speed manual gearbox as standard with an optional CVT transmission also offered. Go diesel and you get a six-speed manual 'box. The short overhangs will help with off-roading but the 185mm ground clearance isn't that generous.

The ALLGRIP four-wheel-drive system is standard with the 1.4-litre petrol turbo and optional with the 1.6-litre variants. The set-up features an electronically controlled clutch pack, controlled by a four-position switch on the centre console. Choose 'Auto' and it'll stick to driving the front wheels unless slip is detected, whereupon the rear wheels are pressed into action. 'Sport' diverts up to 20 per cent of torque to the rear wheels to give livelier handling. 'Snow' offers permanent four-wheel drive with the system choosing how much torque to split front and rear, while 'Lock' splits the torque equally between front and rear.

With tight proportions and a front end that has more than a hint of current Land Rover design about it, the Vitara is quite an assured piece of design work. There's also a blacked-out floating glasshouse, heavily sculpted flanks and a very neat taillamp finish. Buyers can also specify a rugged package which adds front and rear skidplates as well as additional body side mouldings.

Options

Suzuki cabins have long been the marque's weak link but this Vitara shows the company pulling its socks up a bit. Okay, so the idea of body-coloured metal across the dash isn't a new one but Suzuki also offers chrome around the gearlever and door trims, plus an analogue clock. It's by no means a large vehicle, breaking the tape at just over four metres long, but still features a 375-litre boot.

Prices start at around £14,000 for the entry-level 1.6-litre petrol version, but you'll need a £20,000 budget for the petrol

ALLGRIP 4WD version. 1.6 DDiS diesel model pricing starts at around £17,000. For the 1.4-litre petrol turbo ALLGRIP model, you'll need around £21,000. All variants get seven airbags, 16-inch alloy wheels, a DAB Radio with USB and Bluetooth connectivity, cruise control with a speed limiter, auto air conditioning, front and rear electric windows and projector headlamps. The plusher SZ-T trim level adds 17-inch silver painted alloy wheels, rear privacy glass, Smart-phone link audio and a navigation system. Moving up to SZ5 adds LED Projector headlights, 17-inch polished alloy wheels, suede seat fabric, keyless entry with start button, Adaptive Cruise Control, Radar Brake Support and a Panoramic sunroof.

There's a range of personalisation options and two key extra-cost packages. The 'Urban' package consists of fog lamp bezels (chrome-plated), body-side mouldings, and a roof spoiler. The 'Rugged' package delivers front and rear skid plates, fog lamp bezels, body-side mouldings and loading edge protection.

The Vitara's CO2 emissions are low thanks to the use of high tensile steel and other weight saving measures in the body plus an Engine Auto Stop Start system which shuts down the engine when stationary. Go for the base 1.6-litre petrol engine and you'll manage 53.3mpg and 123g/km, while the 1.6-litre DDiS diesel manages 70.6mpg and 106g/km. Obviously, expect those returns to take a bit of a knock if you specify ALLGRIP 4WD. The 1.4-litre petrol turbo ALLGRIP variant manages 127g/km of CO2.

Residual values might well stack up better than the industry average if the current crop of Suzuki models is anything to go by. Strong reliability records and modest optional equipment lists have helped to keep 'real world' residuals buoyant. The Vitara shouldn't divert too far from that template even if it does promise additional personalisation options.

Customers wanting a small Crossover now have so much choice that it must be difficult to know where to start. If that's the case for you, then beginning your search by looking at a great all-rounder in this segment seems to make a lot of sense. And this Vitara is certainly that.

Stand-out styling in new MX-5

By James Parker

The Limited Edition all-new Mazda MX-5 Sport Recaro has joined Mazda's award-winning sports car line up.

Based on the 2.0-litre 160ps Sport Nav, the Sport Recaro retains the finely-balanced performance and handling of the standard car but, limited to just 600 cars, it benefits from added exclusivity and sporty styling enhancements inside and out.

The lightest MX-5 since the iconic original, the latest Mazda MX-5 is shorter, lower and wider than the outgoing car, with the smallest overhangs and lowest centre of gravity yet.

These dynamic proportions combined with Mazda's KODO: Soul of Motion design philosophy ensure that the all-new Mazda MX-5's styling reflects its focus on driving pleasure in an unmistakably contemporary and dynamic way.

Created with the discerning sports car fan in mind, the Sport Recaro builds on these sharp looks with a Brilliant Black Sports Aero kit that includes a rear spoiler, plus front, side and rear skirts.

Piano Black door mirrors and 17-inch Diamond Cut alloy wheels with an engraved MX-5 logo complete the stand-out exterior appearance.

Inside, the classy MX-5 cabin gains an Alcantara dashboard panel, alloy pedals and unique floor mats. Complementing the premium feel of the cabin, the standard Recaro seats feature Alcantara upholstery on the seat cushion and seat back, while red seat piping matches the red stitching found on the dash, handbrake and gear lever.

Designed to deliver outstanding lumbar and lateral support, the heated Recaro seats are perfectly aligned with the Jinba Ittai concept of car and driver as one that defines the Mazda MX-5.

Complementing the Mazda MX-5's driver-focused cabin and communicative controls, the supportive Recaro seats match the fun-to-drive ethos that has made the Mazda MX-5 the best-selling two-seater sports car of all time.

Specification

Based on the generous specification of the 2.0-litre Sport Nav, the all-new Mazda MX-5 Sport Recaro features LED headlights, a leather steering wheel, climate control air-conditioning, DAB radio, Integrated Bluetooth®, integrated navigation system with 3-years free European map updates, rain-sensing wipers, rear parking sensors, smart keyless entry, a premium Bose® sound system and cruise control, plus Mazda's MZD-Connect connectivity and infotainment system with seven-inch colour touch-screen display and Multimedia Commander.

In line with the 2.0-litre Sport Nav, the Sport Recaro benefits from a dynamic set-up that includes sports suspension featuring Bilstein dampers, a limited slip differential and strut tower bar.

Across the range, the all-new Mazda MX-5 was conceived and developed under the concept of 'innovate in order to preserve'.

This engineering philosophy has allowed Mazda to maintain the agility, fun and engagement that has always defined the MX-5 while at the same time meeting ever-increasing safety and efficiency requirements, alongside improved refinement.

Continuing Mazda's long tradition of special edition MX-5s, the all-new Mazda MX-5 Sport Recaro is the first Limited Edition version of the all-new fourth-generation MX-5 offered in the UK, and its exclusivity is marked out by an individually numbered badge located on the centre storage box lid.

With its stand-out styling, sporty cabin enhancements and Recaro seats, the all-new Mazda MX-5 Sport Recaro is available to order now.

F-Pace is setting the pace

By Matt Joy

It's the first ever SUV to come from Jaguar and the most important new car to arrive this year. We find out if the F-Pace is really a Jaguar as well as a 4x4.

On paper, the F-Pace is as new as they come. Rumours of Jaguar building an SUV started in the 1990s, but it's taken until now for one to arrive.

It's designed to offer the space and practicality that SUV buyers demand whilst still looking – and crucially, also driving – like a real Jaguar should.

Under the svelte skin, the F-Pace is based on the same aluminium architecture as the XF, while the four-wheel-drive system is derived from that used on the F-Type. It also gets some off-road technology as well as some neat tricks of its own.

Finished in the striking Caesium Blue of the special First Edition model and riding on the vast 22-inch alloy wheels, the F-Pace is a superb looking machine in the flesh. It's a coherent design too, not just a Jaguar grille applied to a tall car, with obvious nods to other Jaguar models and a sense of style and speed.

The lower-specification models still look good too, although it's likely that the 22-inch wheels will become something of an essential choice.

There's no doubt Jaguar's image has been on the up for the best part of a decade now and it's certainly ready to carry an SUV in its range. With the reputation of its other models well cemented, it may just become the driver's pick in the segment.

There's no escaping the fact that buyers move into SUVs from other models because they want the space, whether they use it or not, but Jaguar has clearly done its homework. It's a mid-sized machine but inside it feels big, front and rear. From the driver's seat you get the better view out, but still with a saloon-like driving position, with plenty of leg and elbow room.

There's excellent legroom in the back too and sufficient width for three adults, though headroom is fine up to average heights with the optional sunroof. The boot is huge at 650 litres with the seats in place and it's well sized; long and tall as well as wide with no irritating intrusions, with plenty of useful storage in the cabin too.

It's a complement to the F-Pace and the team behind it that sometimes it's easy to think you're behind the wheel of a Jaguar saloon.

Pleasure

Regardless of engine choice there is a sweetness and a directness to the response from the controls – in particular the steering – that demonstrates a commitment to driving pleasure. Whether you're just ambling around town or destroying a B-road, the F-Pace flows along as well as its saloon siblings.

The 375bhp 3.0-litre supercharged V6 petrol is likely to be the least popular option, but it's definitely the most fun. It rasps and crackles when extended and makes the F-Pace a real sporting car.

During a long drive on some challenging country roads, it made fantastic progress, being quick, controlled and composed.

The 2.0-litre diesel with 178bhp will be the best seller in the UK and, while it can't compete with the V6 petrol on performance, it has a strong set of figures; 318lb.ft of torque, 0-62mph in 8.7 seconds, 53.3mpg combined and 139g/km of CO2. The eight-speed automatic shifts quickly and smoothly to make the most of the engine torque and noise levels are kept in check.

Even though it will almost never be used this way, the F-Pace still has genuine off-road ability too. All Surface Progress Control allows the driver to set a desired speed below 19mph and the F-Pace will trickle along, managing the brakes and accelerator up or down hill as you steer.

The entry-model in the F-Pace range is the two-wheel-drive Prestige 2.0-litre diesel manual costing £34,170, which comes with cruise control, torque vectoring, front and rear parking sensors, traffic sign recognition, 18-inch alloy wheels and the InControl Touch infotainment system with DAB and satellite navigation, which for many buyers will be all the kit they'll ever need.

There's even a clever gadget called the Activity Key, which is a rubberised waterproof wrist strap that allows you to lock the actual keys in the car during sports or activities, and is unlocked by simply touching the boot badge with the strap. It's a smart idea for £300.

The F-Pace is a car with exceptionally broad appeal. It has the SUV presence and heft that buyers are keen on, but it's better to look at than any of its rivals, which may attract more female buyers.

It's also great fun to drive as well as relaxing, which will make it more appealing to buyers who need to trade up for more space.

And those who do need the space should find the F-Pace has as much as they need, with the reassurance of off-road security.

The F-Pace could be the car that blows the competition out of the water.

HEWSTON

Cyril Victor

Passed away on Easter
Sunday, March 27, 2016, aged 92 years.

Our Lady & St. Alphonsus
Church, Hanley Swan,

Meeting first at 1.30pm at The Swan Pub, Hanley Swan,
Worcester WR8 0EA.

Flowers welcome, donations,

Husband

I often sit and think you and how you died. To think you could not say good bye before you closed your eyes.

No words can describe the loss I feel, only your absence makes it real.

From your Wife Margaret.

XX

God bless.

HEWSTON

Cyril

Dad

You had been in hospital nine weeks and two days. We wanted to wait until you came home, but that was not to be.

So I am glad that on your Birthday, March 12, Jack and I gave you that birthday party
tea. You ate and drank had a whole slice of birthday cake, you posed for photos too, we laughed and you laughed with us and joined in when we sang
Happy Birthday to you.

It gave us a chance to be with you all together, instead of just visiting two by two, after all it was a special day as you were 92.

You opened all your cards and presents whilst Jack was videoing you, thankfully he did, because who knew that only 15 days later on Easter Sunday, March 27, God would be waiting for you.

Jack and I were with you only hours before you died, you and I said good night, God bless to each other, I kissed your head and said see you later Dad, not knowing it would be for the very last time.

If only we had known we never would have left, we would have both sat beside you until you were finally at rest. We both came back to see you that night, after you had died to say sorry that we were not with you and to say our last good byes.

So there is only one more thing left to tell you, if love alone could have saved you,
you never would have died.

Goodnight Dad and God bless.

Love from your Daughter Sherie.

HEWSTON

Cyril

Dad, we didn't get to say good-bye, but I'm not going to sit and cry.

Because I know you haven't gone, it was just time for you to move on.

I believe we will meet again one day, and we will have such a lot to say.

So go and find our Family and Friends and send them all my love.

And I will keep you in my heart and remember you're just in the sky above.

So until we meet again Dad,
it's bye for now.

Love Your Daughter
Michelle.

God bless.

X X X

HEWSTON

Cyril

Body so tired Dad time to rest, we all know you will be with the best.

So into Gods hands you must go, wherever you are we love you so.

Goodnight, God bless you.

Much love, Chris, Tarnia, Candice, Jade, Chris and Macaulay.

X X X

HEWSTON

Cyril

Dad and Grandad

Those we love don't go away, they walk beside us everyday.
Unseen, unheard but always near, still loved, still missed and very dear.

Love from your Son John,
Carol, Tarnia, Hannah and Joshua.

X X

HEWSTON

Cyril

Grandad

I undressed you, put your pyjamas on and got you into bed. We said good night God bless to each other then you shook my hand and I kissed your head.

I sat beside you till you fell asleep. You know we would have wanted to be with you when you died, but you were having none of that, so you slipped quietly away, so you could spare us that.

I came back that night to see you after you had died to say my last good byes and to tell you that I will always miss that twinkle in your eye. I also promised that we would all take care of Nan just liked you asked.

Whilst we are apart I will have my memories and love always in my heart, so save a seat for me beside you for when we meet again.

Now all that is left to tell you is lots of love from me to you and may God always keep you safe and look after you.

I did not want to leave you, but I knew you needed rest and I am sorry I was not with you, but, you knew I always did my best.

Good night Grandad and God bless.

Love from your Grandson
Jack.

HEWSTON

Cyril

Grandad

If love could build a stairway and memories build a lane.
I would climb up to Heaven
Grandad and carry you home again.

Love from your Grandson
Jordan.

HEWSTON

Cyril

I was not there to say good-bye, but memories of you will never die.

Love from Iris. X

Albion feel the heat in a chilly challenge

THERE is nothing more daunting than facing 95,000 hostile supporters on a cold night in eastern Europe. But 37 years ago, that was the challenge faced by Ron Atkinson's Albion side on their UEFA Cup adventure.

A Baggies side packed full of stars, travelled out to Yugoslavia to take on Red Star Belgrade at their imposing Marakana stadium.

Having previously defeated Galatasaray, Braga and Valencia, Atkinson's men had made it through to the quarter-finals of the tournament – the first time in the club's history they had successfully navigated through three rounds of European competition.

The day before, Albion's players headed to a local television studio to watch a tape of their unknown opposition.

Pressure

And as they ran onto the pitch, an astonishing crowd of 95,300 supporters lay in wait for what turned into a fiercely contested encounter from two well-matched sides.

Atkinson's line-up included Ally Robertson, Bryan Robson, Cyrille Regis, Laurie Cunningham and Ally Brown.

Albion started the fixture slowly and had to withstand lots of early Red Star pressure as they adapted to playing under a whistle-happy referee unused to a physical English game.

And they held on until the 85th minute, before a superbly struck free-kick from Dusan Savic – which clipped the inside of the post before finding the top corner – settled the first leg.

"Red Star were dead until that goal came," said a deflated Atkinson afterwards.

SPORTING MEMORIES

By Joseph Masi

"Red Star were dead until that goal came. All the sparkle and life had gone and I could see us getting back to The Hawthorns with a 0-0 draw."

son afterwards. "All the sparkle and life had gone out of their game and I could see us getting back to The Hawthorns with a 0-0 draw."

"But having said that, I must admit it was a superbly taken goal," he added.

"Mind you they had several similar chances early in the match and everyone was blocked by our solid defensive wall."

"They also have a reputation for being good at the back and now we know just how good they are."

Upon their return to England, Atkinson's Albion geared up for an FA Cup fifth round clash with Southampton – a match which they drew 1-1.

The return leg against Belgrade, at the Hawthorns, then took place on March 21 with the two teams battling to a 1-1 draw that saw Albion lose the tie 2-1 on aggregate.

Scholars in blank end to the season

Lincoln Utd 0 Chasetown 0

CHASETOWN'S Evo-Stik First Division South season ended with a goalless draw at Lincoln United in a game that had nothing riding on it.

Lincoln midfielder Gary King tested Curtis Pond in the opening 15 minutes with a long-range effort which was easily gathered.

In the 37th minute a Simon Brown corner was headed goalwards by Henry Eze and King headed off the line.

A typical end of season game saw opportunities limited and a deflected Marco Adaggio effort was parried by Ryan Mus-selwhite.

The hosts had one eye on the play-offs, which Chasetown had failed to make thanks to a 1-0 home defeat to Stocks-bridge Park Steels last Tuesday night, and Stan Mugisha tried his luck from 20 yards with a shot that deflected out for a corner.

Lincoln pushed forward late on and 10 minutes from time Matt Cotton capitalised on a Chris Slater error but was denied by a low Pond save.

In the final minute, Rob Norris almost pinched the points for the hosts but for a brilliant save from Pond at his near post.

Eze almost won the visitors the game in stoppage time with a mazy run before teeing up George Washbourne who struck the crossbar with Musslewhite beaten.

Bromsgrove Sporting 2 Heath Hayes 0 - Midland League Division 1

HAYES set themselves a hard task on this visit to championship chasing Bromsgrove, gifting their opponents a goal inside the first two minutes through Liam Dugmore.

The home side, spurred on by a near 500 crowd, then laid siege on the visitors' goal but some erratic finishing saw Hayes hold out until half time without conceding further.

Any hopes of a Hayes were dashed on the hour with a controversial penalty decision.

Keeper Mark Wiggin looked to have been fouled as he went to gather from a corner and as the ball ran loose Harry Phillips was adjudged to have impeded Josh Westwood. Westwood picked himself up and confidently despatched the spot-kick.

Thrills and spills as club gears up for championships

TWO-WHEELED thrills and spills on the dirt track will take place this weekend as Cannock Motorcycle Club hosts its spring motocross championships.

The club stages two days of racing on Sunday and bank holiday Monday at Lower Drayton Farm, near Penkridge.

Sunday will see the main day of championship racing with a host of top riders taking part.

Monday hosts a club meeting with riders ranging from nine years of age up to adult riders.

Racing takes place from approximately 10.30am-6pm each day and entry costs £4 for adults, £2 for children aged 12-16 with OAPs and youngsters under 12 free.

Batsman's long road to Cannock

South African batsman Brian Barnard

OVERSEAS cricketer Brian Barnard has finally arrived to play for Cannock from his native South Africa - and promptly hit 160 on his debut.

Barnard's arrival comes a year later than planned after a horrendous road accident that nearly cost him his life.

The 27-year-old batsman was driving home from a trophy play-off for his South African First Class side Gauteng when his car careered out of control and went off the road in Johannesburg.

"I was in hospital for two months," he said. "I was in a coma. I don't remember anything about the crash." And Barnard recalls being told, after waking from his coma, how close he was to losing his life. "There is a scale of one to 15 in terms of brain activity and anything lower than three is judged to be clinically dead. I was on three."

Against all the odds, Barnard was back playing within months. And when Cannock officials heard this, they were back to sign the batsman.

And he made the perfect start, bludgeoning 160 against Walsall YFP. He helped Cannock to 267-8 and also took a wicket as Walsall YFP were skittled out for 70.

Five alive as Social keep up pressure

Penkridge 0 Brereton Social 5

THREE goals in a crazy five-minute spell saw Brereton hit Penkridge for five in what has to rank as their worst performance under manager Steve Walton.

In a top-of-the-table clash, Brereton arrived at Wolgarston knowing a win would keep their slim title hopes alive.

The visitors took the lead on 12 minutes. Good work by Beckham Fulton down the Brereton right saw the ball cut back to centre back Scott Gratton, who had time and space to smash the ball past Josh Griffin.

With just two minutes on the clock in the second half Brereton had notched the all-important second goal. A long range effort was fumbled by Griffin and Fulton prodded home. Just a minute later, Saul Stocking made it three.

With just 52 minutes on the clock Alex Beckett gave away a penalty which Brad Hodgson converted. There was just no way back for Penkridge and Stocking completed the scoring on 74 minutes.

Despite this result the title is still in Penkridge's own hands. They have four games this week, including the Leek Cup final tomorrow (Friday) against Redgate Clayton at Ball Haye Green.

Penkridge 9 Eastfields 2

RICHIE Miller grabbed five goals as Penkridge smashed nine past bottom side Eastfields.

Tom Pickford smashed in his third goal in as many games after just nine minutes and Miller made it two on 12 minutes with the referee waving away claims of offside.

Luke Colburn pulled one back, but the two-goal cushion was restored as Miller grabbed his second. It was 3-2 at half-time as Brian Yates scored for Eastfields but Penkridge went to town with six second half goals, scored by from Andy Taylor, Jack Dixon, assistant manager Steve Thompson and three from Miller.

Penkridge through in national knockout

PENKRIDGE CC's Third XI were narrowly defeated by four wickets at Penn with two overs remaining.

Steve Jones top scored in a total of 215-9. Despite 3-49 from Faisal Nadeem, Penn got home largely thanks to an unbeaten 92 from Giles Pargeter.

The 4th team bowled out Coseley for 96 before an opening stand of 90 between Jacob Ratcliffe and Kev Baker saw Penkridge to a nine wicket win.

On Sunday the 1st team progressed to the second round of the National Knock-out for the first time, beating Stone (163) by seven wickets with 13 over to spare.

Mo Ishtiaq scored 107 in reply.

BORE DRAW TO BE FORGOTTEN

Hednesford Town 0 Bradford Park Avenue 0
HEDNESFORD Town ended their home campaign with a goalless draw against Bradford Park Avenue that will be quickly forgotten.

After a quiet opening it was the visitors who had the first chance when the ball fell at the feet of striker Lammin Colley inside the penalty area after 14 minutes but he fired straight at Hednesford's Lloyd Ransome.

Paul Ennis then blazed well over the bar a minute later when well placed on the edge of the box for the Pitmen.

Luke Woodland fired wide of the target for the visitors after 22 minutes before Dyan Mottley-Henry put his shot from just inside the box into the side netting seven minutes later.

Ransome was called into action to deal with a speculative effort from Woodland soon afterwards before Hednesford had the last effort of the half when Tom Peers fired a shot from 30 yards that was easily saved.

Corner

The second period was equally slow to get going and it took until a minute before the hour mark until there was a shot in anger as Hednesford's Danny Glover saw a free-kick stopped on the line by visiting goalkeeper Ryan Jones.

The home side almost forced the opener after 67 minutes when a corner into the box was headed down by Francino Francis to Jonathan Royle but his low driven effort was turned away for another corner.

After 75 minutes Colley saw another tame effort easily kept out by Ransome before the last chance of the game fell to the home side with eight minutes remaining.

A long ball downfield saw Peers race on to it before trying to bring the ball under control. Although his first effort was blocked, the ball fell kindly to the striker again but he fired wide.

A game that had seen nothing in it almost ended on a sour note as in stoppage time there was a coming together of both sets of players after Peers had tripped the advancing Mottley-Henry, which saw both players being booked.

Thomas claims awards hat-trick

Ryan Bailey hands Ben Bailey the Supporters' Player award

Manager's Player Adam Thomas with Kyle Patterson

HTFCSA chairman Scott Smith with Paul Woodhead

HEDNESFORD Town midfielder Adam Thomas scored a hat-trick last weekend - at the club's end of season awards.

Thomas, who has played more than 30 times this season despite suffering a shoulder injury on the opening day, was named as the Hednesford Town FC Supporters Association Player of the Season, the Management Player of the Season and also Sportsman of the Year after collecting just one yellow card all campaign.

Captain Ben Bailey was named as the Supporters Player of the Season, narrowly beating Thomas and goalkeeper Dan Crane who were joint runners-up.

The last playing award saw midfielder Sean Williams being named as the Players' Player of the Season. He was presented with his award by HTFCSA chairman Scott Smith.

Dave and Val Bates were awarded the Clubman of the Year award for their efforts with the playing surface, while Paul Woodhead was named as the HTFCSA Supporter of the Season for his hard work off the field in promoting the club through both Pitman Pete and other avenues.
